Road Bond Defeat Is Tax Signal

Voters Against Big Spending

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—The surprising defeat of the proposed $750,000,000 bond issue for highway improvements stunned leaders of both major parties today and prompted speculation that they might find it politically wise to cut state taxes next year.

Party chiefs made conflicting claims of gains in local elections and hailed them as favorable signs of victory in the 1956 presidential race. But they appeared at a loss to explain the decisive defeat of the bond issue.

THE REJECTION overshadowed other results of yesterday's balloting, including a resounding defeat of the proposed construction of a dam at Panther Mountain and a virtual standoff in the 48 mayoral elections. The Democrats scored a net gain of one mayoral seat.

Some observers viewed the defeat of the highway bond issue as a revolt against more taxing and spending. Others regarded it as a victory for the New York State Automobile Assn. and others who fought the proposal because it did not provide for constitutional earmarking of a proposed 50 per cent increase in motor fuel tax increases to amortize the bonds.

WITH UNOFFICIAL returns in from 9,574 of the state's 10,303 election districts, the vote was 1,389,904 against the bond issue and 1,042,243 for it—a margin of 347,661.

Republican and Democratic leaders had vigorously supported the plan, which was one of 10 proposed constitutional amendments and one proposition the voters passed upon yesterday.

The proposal to authorize the Black river regulating district to build the Panther dam in the Adirondack forest preserve met overwhelming defeat.

FIGURES FROM 9,156 districts showed a vote of 1,411,636 against 543,535 for the proposal, an 868,101-vote difference.

Of the remaining eight amendments, five appears headed for approval, judging from unofficial incomplete returns, and three seemed to be doomed.

THE LONE PROPOSITION, involving 50 million dollars in state loans to finance housing for middle-income families, was lagging by 3,825 votes with returns in from 9,107 districts.

But late returns appeared to be closing the gap.

Republican Leaders Are Gratified

City and county Republican leaders expressed gratification today over Tuesday's election, pointing particularly to the sweeping victory of Mayor Frederick H. Stang, while Democratic leaders took comfort from gains in the city's governing body and the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, said this morning that the "voters of Kingston and Ulster county have again spoken clearly and unmistakably in favor of the Republican party in this city and county. We deeply appreciate their confidence in our candidates and our party.

"AS COUNTY chairman I am grateful for the splendid support that we were given throughout the county by our committeemen and countless others who devoted much time and effort to our campaign. My personal thanks and appreciation to all of them.

"I want to congratulate the Democratic chairman Thomas J. Plunket for the fine campaign he and his county candidates carried on.

"THE REPUBLICAN Party will have a substantial majority in the new Board of Supervisors and this will enable us to carry out the plan that the present board has been working on during the past two years.

"Our newly elected and reelected county officials will, I am sure, justify the continued confidence that the voters expressed at the polls yesterday."

N. LeVan Haver, Kingston attorney and chairman of the City Republican Committee, issued the following statement:

"AS LEADER of the Republican party in Kingston I wish to thank the voters for their overwhelming endorsement of the city administration. I am confident that Mayor Stang and Alderman-at-Large Schwenk will conduct the affairs of our city during the next two years in such a manner as to reflect credit on our city and on themselves as public officials.

"We're particularly proud of the clean, constructive campaign that Fred Stang and John Schwenk conducted and it is most gratifying to have the voters place their stamp of approval on that kind of political campaign. We also are pleased that Mayor Stang will have a Republican majority in the Board of Aldermen during the next administration.

"I wish to take this opportunity of again thanking everyone who contributed in any manner to our splendid victory. A victory such as this is not the effort of a few people but attained through the combined efforts of party workers and friends who

Po'keepsie Favors $5,000 For Police; Votes In GOP

The city of Poughkeepsie voted in a Republican mayor and city council yesterday and approved a pay referendum raising the maximum salary of city policemen to $5,000—the first city in New York State to approve such a referendum by popular vote.

J. Thomas Dietz (R) defeated Horace S. Graham (D) for the mayoralty office by a vote of 6,972 to 5,144. It is the first term for Mr. Dietz.

THE BIGGEST upset in the city aldermanic race came in the Fourth Ward which elected the city's first Democratic alderman since the eight-man council set-up went into effect Jan. 1, 1952. Christopher Atkinson (D) won a seat by 41 votes over Robert Clauss (R).

The council is now made up of seven Republicans and one Democrat.

OF THE TOTAL of 32 supervisors in Dutchess county, the Republicans elected 23 and the Democrats nine—a gain of four by the Democrats.

The pay referendum raising the salary maximum for patrolmen from $4,108.80 to $5,000 was affirmed by the electorate—4,798 voting in favor and 3,494 against. Poughkeepsie joined 17 other municipal police departments in New York State, all in the lower part of the state, who now have the $5,000 maximum.

Police Chief John L. Martin of the Poughkeepsie Police Department told The Freeman the vote had certainly given the members of the department a pick-up in morale and that the department greatly appreciated "this expression of confidence."

PETER KERESMAN of Kingston, secretary of the New York State Police Association, said this morning the vote in favor of a $5,000 maximum for patrolmen was immensely gratifying and indicated that the people recognized the value of good police services.

He said the people who approved the salary increase should be congratulated, that they evidently recognized the importance of paying a policeman a "living wage."

HE SAID he was particularly delighted in view of the disturbing fact that so many members of municipal police departments had been leaving the force in recent years for more lucrative employment.

The results of the aldermanic election in the city of Poughkeepsie were as follows:

First Ward—Alderman Milano (R) defeated Peter Leone (D) by 480 votes.

Second Ward—Alderman Van Tine (R) won over Stanley Waryas by 212 votes.

Third Ward—Alderman Freer (R) won over Theodore Detmer (D) by 14 votes.

Fourth Ward — Christopher Atkinson (D) defeated Robert Clauss (R) by 41 votes.

Fifth Ward — Alderman Kimlin (R) won over Allen McCagg (D) by 237 votes.

Sixth Ward—Alderman Henry Hof (R) won over James Doran (D) by 341 votes.

Seventh Ward — Alderman Mackey (R) won over Louie Fiore (D) by 382 votes.

Eighth Ward—Alderman Johnson (R) won over Jack Cole (D) by 511 votes.

Egypt Says U. S. Is to Blame for Help From Reds

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 9 (AP)—Egypt charges Washington's "postponement and promises" on her requests forced her to buy weapons from the Communists.

The government statement was Egypt's explanation of a move which suddenly spotlighted a growing struggle between the West and the Communist bloc for leadership in the restless Middle East. Egypt's declaration was an effort to refute a remark by U. S. Assistant Secretary of State George Allen to the effect Cairo suddenly turned to the Communists for arms while negotiating with Washington.

Democrats Sweep Number of States

(By The Associated Press)

Democrats registered off-year municipal election gains in Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut yesterday and scored sweeping victories in races for governor of Kentucky and mayor of Philadelphia.

Republicans made gains here and there but the net results in many areas favored the Democrats.

The two feature races went according to advance expectations.

In Kentucky, A. B. (Happy) Chandler made a political comeback by defeating Republican Edwin R. Denney for the governorship. Chandler, a former U. S. senator and baseball commissioner, returned to the governor's post he last held in 1935-1939. He had been out of political office for 10 years.

In Philadelphia, 57-year-old Richardson Dilworth, a veteran Democratic warhorse, swamped Republican W. Thacher Longstreth, a 35-year-old political neophyte, in winning election as mayor of that onetime GOP stronghold by 132,000 votes. The remainder of the Democratic ticket, with one exception, swept into office with Dilworth. Longstreth had received the personal endorsement of President Eisenhower.

Ohio voters dealt the CIO a setback in its drive to win approval of a supplemental layoff pay plan and increased state jobless benefits. The CIO conceded defeat after the twin proposal, trailing from the beginning, had fallen more than 240,000 votes behind.

Democrats scored their most surprising triumphs in normally Republican Indiana. Incumbent Republicans were toppled in Indianapolis and South Bend, Muncie, Evansville, Michigan City, Marion, New Castle and Bloomington, among others.

Over all, the Democrats reversed the lineup of Indiana mayors—from 70 Republican and 32 Democratic before the election to 72 Democratic and 30 Republican.

Democrats also registered gains in Pennsylvania. For the first time in 50 years, they were leading in Bucks county balloting. And in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh), Republican Dis-

Mayor Frederick H. Stang yesterday was returned to office by a plurality of 2,394 based on unofficial returns, and his running mate John J. Schwenk won by 2,300 votes as the city went Republican with the exception of a loss in the Board of Supervisors.

Stang polled 7,943 votes against the 5,548 of his Democratic opponent William F. Edelmuth, and Schwenk's vote was 7,779 against 5,479 polled by Harry A. Flowers, Jr., Democratic candidate for alderman-at-large.

REPUBLICANS held control of the Common Council seven to six by 52 Liberal party votes cast for George Norton, Jr., sixth ward incumbent, but the Democrats, with the help of close decisions in the unofficial count, voted in eight supervisors.

All election results in the city, as presented here, are based on first, unofficial returns, and because of close decisions reported in some wards, totals may change after the official, final count.

Republican candidates for county judge, district attorney, county treasurer and coroner, all won by large margins, and County Judge William A. Kelly, Democratic candidate for reelection, ran ahead of the mayoral vote. He lost by 679 polling 6,265 against Louis G. Bruhn, the successful Republican candidate, who received 6,944 votes.

NEGATIVE votes were polled straight through on the amendments, and the one proposition on the ballot also lost.

Mayor Stang polled most of his heavy lead in the second and 12th wards, which gave him 1,677 votes. He won by 666 in the second ward and 1,011 in the 12th.

The Republicans won aldermen in the first, second, fifth, sixth, 11th, 12th and 13th wards. They won supervisors only in the first, second, sixth, 11th and 12th wards.

STANG LOST only in the fourth, fifth and sixth wards, and the decision, on unofficial count, in the fourth was by two with the help of Liberal party votes. He lost by 72 in the fifth and 64 in the sixth. Schwenk also lost in the same wards.

The Democrats returned Alderman Edwin Radel in the third ward, elected Frank Zakseski over Joseph F. Wenzel, incumbent in the fourth, voted in Frank Sass over incumbent Harry R. Brandt in the seventh, and returned Arthur Smith, Sr., over John C. Porsch in the eighth.

William K. Bodenweber, Democratic incumbent in the ninth won only by six votes, based on the unofficial count, James K. Ryan was returned to office in the 10th by a safe majority.

Samuel J. Perry, endorsed by Republicans, Democrats and the Liberal party, was reelected by 641 votes, and George Norton, Jr., in the sixth, came out ahead of his Democratic opponent, Joseph A. Tomaszewski by 17 votes. His lead came from 52 votes polled on the Liberal party ticket. The vote was 346 against 329.

John F. Cochran, Republican candidate for supervisor in the sixth also went in by dint of 54 Liberal party votes, but by a margin of 52 over his Democratic opponent Michael W. Melnik.

Democrats Gain Mayor In State

2 Victories May Be Contested

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—New York State's Democrats emerged from yesterday's 1955 mayoral elections with paper-thin victories in Republican-ruled Troy and Schenectady, a one-seat net gain across the state and high hopes for 1956.

Democratic leaders hailed the party's showing as a sign that the state was headed for the Democratic column in next year's presidential elections. But the GOP state organization contended the Democrats had been "stopped cold."

IT WAS LIKELY that the apparent Democratic victories in Troy and Schenectady would be contested.

Of the 48 mayors that were elected yesterday, 25 are Republicans, 19 are Democrats, one is a Democrat who ran as an independent and three were chosen under the non-partisan system.

Democrats were triumphant in eight cities that had chosen Republican mayors in their last elections. Republicans succeeded in ousting six Democratic city administrations.

THIS WOULD APPEAR to indicate a net Democratic gain of two mayoralities. However, the Democratic - turned - Independent—in New Rochelle—defeated the candidate backed by the Democratic organization. So this must be counted as a loss for the party.

Democratic candidates, exclusive of those in Troy and Schenectady, turned the tables on GOP regimes in Auburn, Glen Cove, Little Falls, Ithaca, Newburgh and Port Jervis. Republicans reversed Democratic rule in Cortland, Dunkirk, Fulton, Lackawanna, Ogdensburg and North Tonawanda.

John Purcell was the apparent victor in Troy over Republican Assemblyman Thomas H. Brown, who also had the Liberal party nomination. The unofficial count was 16,896 for Purcell and 16,539 for Brown.

THE OUTCOME was interpreted as a loss also—in prestige—for Rep. Dean P. Taylor, Rensselaer county GOP leader and former Republican state chairman. Taylor backed Brown in preference to Mayor Edward A. Fitzgerald, who sought to run as an Independent after he lost to Brown in the GOP primary. Fitzgerald, ruled off the ballot in a court suit brought by Brown, finally gave his support to the assemblyman.

The race in Schenectady was even closer. Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, a power in GOP state circles, saw the candidate he had plumped, Henry C. Pfeil, drop a close unofficial decision

Opposes County Office Building on Boulevard

Asserting that the location of a new county office building should be selected only after "an exploration of all conflicting views," Attorney Vincent G. Connelly in a letter to The Freeman said today the contemplated site on county-owned lands adjacent to the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital on the Boulevard would be a public inconvenience.

"The argument that the county clerk's office must go from uptown Kingston to solve the parking problem in Kingston is to me as sensible as moving the state capitol to the top of Mt. Marcy to solve the parking problem in Albany," Mr. Connelly said.

In pointing out that all who are acquainted with the problem recognize the crying need of a new county office building, Mr. Connelly said its location "should be decided summarily and arbitrarily but only after an exploration of all conflicting views."

Mr. Connelly said the first authorative public statement he had seen or heard on the proposed location "was made by Senator Wicks in his pre-election talk Monday evening."

He asserted "there is ample land on county property at the corner of Main and along Fair street for a new building, particularly one of several stories."

Reasons why this space should

Early Return Is Asked For C of C Vote Ballot

All members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, who have not already done so, were urged today to fill out and return their nominating ballots.

Robert O'Reilly, chairman of the Chamber's election committee, made this request today in announcing that his committee would meet Tuesday evening, November 15 to count the ballots. Therefore, only ballots received before 5 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 15, can be included.

Under the provisions of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce By-Laws each member has the opportunity to nominate seven persons of his choice for the office of director. The 14 nominees receiving the highest number of votes are placed on an election ballot to be mailed to all members on or about Dec. 1. The seven then receiving the most votes are declared elected for a term of three years starting on Jan. 1, 1956.

Last week each Chamber member received a nominating ballot and a complete list of members eligible to be nominated. A self addressed return envelope was enclosed.

Democrats Gain Mayor In State

2 Victories May Be Contested

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—New York State's Democrats emerged from yesterday's 1955 mayoral elections with paper-thin victories in Republican-ruled Troy and Schenectady, a one-seat net gain across the state and high hopes for 1956.

Democratic leaders hailed the party's showing as a sign that the state was headed for the Democratic column in next year's presidential elections. But the GOP state organization contended the Democrats had been "stopped cold."

IT WAS LIKELY that the apparent Democratic victories in Troy and Schenectady would be contested.

Of the 48 mayors that were elected yesterday, 25 are Republicans, 19 are Democrats, one is a Democrat who ran as an independent and three were chosen under the non-partisan system.

Democrats were triumphant in eight cities that had chosen Republican mayors in their last elections. Republicans succeeded in ousting six Democratic city administrations.

THIS WOULD APPEAR to indicate a net Democratic gain of two mayoralities. However, the Democratic - turned - Independent—in New Rochelle—defeated the candidate backed by the Democratic organization. So this must be counted as a loss for the party.

Democratic candidates, exclusive of those in Troy and Schenectady, turned the tables on GOP regimes in Auburn, Glen Cove, Little Falls, Ithaca, Newburgh and Port Jervis. Republicans reversed Democratic rule in Cortland, Dunkirk, Fulton, Lackawanna, Ogdensburg and North Tonawanda.

John Purcell was the apparent victor in Troy over Republican Assemblyman Thomas H. Brown, who also had the Liberal party nomination. The unofficial count was 16,896 for Purcell and 16,539 for Brown.

THE OUTCOME was interpreted as a loss also—in prestige—for Rep. Dean P. Taylor, Rensselaer county GOP leader and former Republican state chairman. Taylor backed Brown in preference to Mayor Edward A. Fitzgerald, who sought to run as an Independent after he lost to Brown in the GOP primary. Fitzgerald, ruled off the ballot in a court suit brought by Brown, finally gave his support to the assemblyman.

The race in Schenectady was even closer. Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, a power in GOP state circles, saw the candidate he had plumped, Henry C. Pfeil, drop a close unofficial decision

Republican Leaders Are Gratified

City and county Republican leaders expressed gratification today over Tuesday's election, pointing particularly to the sweeping victory of Mayor Frederick H. Stang, while Democratic leaders took comfort from gains in the city's governing body and the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, said this morning that the "voters of Kingston and Ulster county have again spoken clearly and unmistakably in favor of the Republican party in this city and county. We deeply appreciate their confidence in our candidates and our party.

"AS COUNTY chairman I am grateful for the splendid support that we were given throughout the county by our committeemen and countless others who devoted much time and effort to our campaign. My personal thanks and appreciation to all of them.

"I want to congratulate the Democratic chairman Thomas J. Plunket for the fine campaign he and his county candidates carried on.

"THE REPUBLICAN Party will have a substantial majority in the new Board of Supervisors and this will enable us to carry out the plan that the present board has been working on during the past two years.

"Our newly elected and re-elected county officials will, I am sure, justify the continued confidence that the voters expressed at the polls yesterday."

N. LeVan Haver, Kingston attorney and chairman of the City Republican Committee, issued the following statement:

"AS LEADER of the Republican party in Kingston I wish to thank the voters for their overwhelming endorsement of the city administration. I am confident that Mayor Stang and Alderman-at-Large Schwenk will conduct the affairs of our city during the next two years in such a manner as to reflect credit on our city and on themselves as public officials.

"We're particularly proud of the clean, constructive campaign that Fred Stang and John Schwenk conducted and it is most gratifying to have the voters place their stamp of approval on that kind of political campaign. We also are pleased that Mayor Stang will have a Republican majority in the Board of Aldermen during the next administration.

"I wish to take this opportunity of again thanking everyone who contributed in any manner to our splendid victory. A victory such as this is not the effort of a few people but attained through the combined efforts of party workers and friends who

The city of Poughkeepsie voted in a Republican mayor and city council yesterday and approved a pay referendum raising the maximum salary of city policemen to $5,000—the first city in New York State to approve such a referendum by popular vote.

J. Thomas Dietz (R) defeated Horace S. Graham (D) for the mayoralty office by a vote of 6,972 to 5,144. It is the first term for Mr. Dietz.

THE BIGGEST upset in the city aldermanic race came in the Fourth Ward which elected the city's first Democratic alderman since the eight-man council set-up went into effect Jan. 1, 1952. Christopher Atkinson (D) won a seat by 41 votes over Robert Clauss (R).

The council is now made up of seven Republicans and one Democrat.

OF THE TOTAL of 32 supervisors in Dutchess county, the Republicans elected 23 and the Democrats nine—a gain of four by the Democrats.

The pay referendum raising the salary maximum for patrolmen from $4,108.80 to $5,000 was affirmed by the electorate—4,798 voting in favor and 3,494 against. Poughkeepsie joined 17 other municipal police departments in New York State, all in the lower part of the state, who now have the $5,000 maximum.

Police Chief John L. Martin of the Poughkeepsie Police Department told The Freeman the vote had certainly given the members of the department a pick-up in morale and that the department greatly appreciated "this expression of confidence."

PETER KERESMAN of Kingston, secretary of the New York State Police Association, said this morning the vote in favor of a $5,000 maximum for patrolmen was immensely gratifying and indicated that the people recognized the value of good police services.

He said the people who approved the salary increase should be congratulated, that they evidently recognized the importance of paying a policeman a "living wage."

HE SAID he was particularly delighted in view of the disturbing fact that so many members of municipal police departments had been leaving the force in recent years for more lucrative employment.

The results of the aldermanic election in the city of Poughkeepsie were as follows:

First Ward—Alderman Milano (R) defeated Peter Leone (D) by 480 votes.

Second Ward—Alderman Van Tine (R) won over Stanley Waryas by 212 votes.

Third Ward—Alderman Freer (R) won over Theodore Detmer (D) by 14 votes.

Fourth Ward — Christopher Atkinson (D) defeated Robert Clauss (R) by 41 votes.

Fifth Ward — Alderman Kimlin (R) won over Allen McCagg (D) by 237 votes.

Sixth Ward—Alderman Henry Hof (R) won over James Doran (D) by 341 votes.

Seventh Ward — Alderman Mackey (R) won over Louie Fiore (D) by 382 votes.

Eighth Ward—Alderman Johnson (R) won over Jack Cole (D) by 511 votes.

Trial of a third degree burglary, and unlawful entry charge against Donald DeGroat was taken up in County Court this morning before Judge William A. Kelly and a jury. DeGroat stands charged by the grand jury with entrance to a property on the Maverick Road, town of Woodstock. Robert Ortale and William D. Brinnier appeared for the defendant and District Attorney Howard C. St. John and Assistant District Attorney John Schick appeared for the prosecution. The prosecutions case was still on at noon.

Egypt Says U. S. Is to Blame for Help From Reds

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 9 (AP)—Egypt charges Washington's "postponement and promises" on her requests forced her to buy weapons from the Communists.

The government statement was Egypt's explanation of a move which suddenly spotlighted a growing struggle between the West and the Communist bloc for leadership in the restless Middle East. Egypt's declaration was an effort to refute a remark by U. S. Assistant Secretary of State George Allen to the effect Cairo suddenly turned to the Communists for arms while negotiating with Washington.

Democrats Sweep Number of States

(By The Associated Press)

Democrats registered off-year municipal election gains in Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Connecticut yesterday and scored sweeping victories in races for governor of Kentucky and mayor of Philadelphia.

Republicans made gains here and there but the net results in many areas favored the Democrats.

The two feature races went according to advance expectations.

In Kentucky, A. B. (Happy) Chandler made a political comeback by defeating Republican Edwin R. Denney for the governorship. Chandler, a former U. S. senator and baseball commissioner, returned to the governor's post he last held in 1935-1939. He had been out of political office for 10 years.

In Philadelphia, 57-year-old Richardson Dilworth, a veteran Democratic warhorse, swamped Republican W. Thacher Longstreth, a 35-year-old political neophyte, in winning election as mayor of that onetime GOP stronghold by 132,000 votes. The remainder of the Democratic ticket, with one exception, swept into office with Dilworth. Longstreth had received the personal endorsement of President Eisenhower.

Ohio voters dealt the CIO a setback in its drive to win approval of a supplemental layoff pay plan and increased state jobless benefits. The CIO conceded defeat after the twin proposal, trailing from the beginning, had fallen more than 240,000 votes behind.

Democrats scored their most surprising triumphs in normally Republican Indiana. Incumbent Republicans were toppled in Indianapolis and South Bend, Muncie, Evansville, Michigan City, Marion, New Castle and Bloomington, among others.

Over all, the Democrats reversed the lineup of Indiana mayors—from 70 Republican and 32 Democratic before the election to 72 Democratic and 30 Republican.

Democrats also registered gains in Pennsylvania. For the first time in 50 years, they were leading in Bucks county balloting. And in Allegheny county (Pittsburgh), Republican Dis-

Opposes County Office Building on Boulevard

Asserting that the location of a new county office building should be selected only after "an exploration of all conflicting views," Attorney Vincent G. Connelly in a letter to The Freeman said today the contemplated site on county-owned lands adjacent to the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital on the Boulevard would be a public inconvenience.

"The argument that the county clerk's office must go from uptown Kingston to solve the parking problem in Kingston is to me as sensible as moving the state capitol to the top of Mt. Marcy to solve the parking problem in Albany," Mr. Connelly said.

In pointing out that all who are acquainted with the problem recognize the crying need of a new county office building, Mr. Connelly said its location "should be decided summarily and arbitrarily but only after an exploration of all conflicting views."

Mr. Connelly said the first authorative public statement he had seen or heard on the proposed location "was made by Senator Wicks in his pre-election talk Monday evening."

He asserted "there is ample land on county property at the corner of Main and along Fair street for a new building, particularly one of several stories."

Reasons why this space should

Early Return Is Asked For C of C Vote Ballot

All members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, who have not already done so, were urged today to fill out and return their nominating ballots.

Robert O'Reilly, chairman of the Chamber's election committee, made this request today in announcing that his committee would meet Tuesday evening, November 15 to count the ballots. Therefore, only ballots received before 5 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 15, can be included.

Under the provisions of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce By-Laws each member has the opportunity to nominate seven persons of his choice for the office of director. The 14 nominees receiving the highest number of votes are placed on an election ballot to be mailed to all members on or about Dec. 1. The seven then receiving the most votes are declared elected for a term of three years starting on Jan. 1, 1956.

Last week each Chamber member received a nominating ballot and a complete list of members eligible to be nominated. A self addressed return envelope was enclosed.

Hollywood, Nov. 9 (AP)—Singer Billy Daniels plans to fly to New York today with his French-Canadian bride, whom he hired a year ago as his children's governess. Daniels, who made the song "That Old Black Magic" his trademark, eloped yesterday to Juarez, Mexico, with Perrette Cameron, 23, a beautiful blonde from Montreal. Democrats Sweep Field In New York City Voting

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Democratic candidates swept the field in New York city in yesterday's election.

The points contributing to the Democratic victory score were the election of district attorneys in Queens, Richmond and Bronx counties; 11 Supreme Court justices in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and Richmond; a borough president in Richmond, lower court posts and several state legislative seats.

THE CONTEST that apparently had most attention was for the district attorney post in Queens, where State Sen. Frank A. O'Connor, primary day winner over the Democratic incumbent, T. Vincent Quinn, defeated Vincent L. Liebell Jr., of Little Neck, the Republican candidate.

O'Connor was the choice of County Leader James A. Phillips for the nomination and subsequently was the endorsed candidate of former county leader James A. Roe.

Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan of Bronx county outdistanced his opponents, former assemblyman William J. Droban, Republican, and former magistrate Samuel Orr, Liberty party nominee.

IN RICHMOND COUNTY, John M. Braisted Jr., Democratic-Liberal nominee, defeated Dist. Atty. Sidney O. Simonson, Republican.

Queens Borough President James A. Lundy indirectly suffered a loss when his commissioner of borough works, C. Parke Masterson of Astoria, was defeated for municipal court justice by Charles J. Vallone, also of Astoria. Vallone was appointed to the court post early this year by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Lundy is a Republican and Masterson, one-time Democrat, was the Republican candidate. Vallone, active in Democratic affairs and youth movements in his home community, had Liberal party votes to swell his winning margin.

As the seven Republican candidates for Supreme Court justice, First District, which includes Manhattan and the Bronx, went down in defeat, Mrs. Selma Berliner, the first woman to be nominated in the district for such a judicial position, was with them.

Proposes Rules Change

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) today proposed a rules change to permit airlines to offer free or reduced-rate transportation to CAB employes on official business. One of the five CAB members, former Chairman Chan Gurney, dissented. He questioned the legality of the move. The CAB supervises the operations of the nation's commercial airlines. Among other duties, it licenses carriers and allots routes.

Indiana has 6,641 miles of railroad.

WANTED BY DEMS: AN ISSUE

Adlai Stevenson, whose announcement of presidential candidacy later this month is taken for granted, is entering a period of test and he knows it. On many sides he has heard it said that he must "make a fight of it."

By that is meant that he must show a willingness to take on all comers, both within and without his party. That includes readiness to match strength in various 1956 presidential primaries with any other Democrats who may choose to run.

Recently Minnesota leaders endorsed him and urged him to enter their primary. A day earlier Stevenson had given a Minnesota audience a sample of his fighting talk.

He said the Republicans are "creating and encouraging the illusion" that all is well "or at least better" in both the foreign and domestic field. In his view the illusion is false.

What he appeared to be saying was that the nation is not so prosperous as the GOP claims, nor is it so close to peace as constant emphasis on the new "Geneva spirit" suggests.

This sort of talk may or may not sound good to Democratic ears in some future primary test. There is surely a question how well it will be received by voters generally.

In the first place, both before and after the summertime Geneva meeting "at the summit," many key Republicans in government warned against expecting too much from the conference. They did not allege "miracles" as Stevenson declared.

Secondly, outside the farm area, wherever everyone acknowledges the problem of the long price decline, the evidence does not seem to lend much support to Stevenson's contention that prosperity is an illusion.

Certain it is that there are bad employment spots, but so there were in the prosperous years under the Democrats. Some of these have been stubbornly unyielding for years.

Certain it is, too, that there are dangers in present prosperity—the expansion of credit, renewal of inflation, and so on. But one needs only to look back to the pre-Eisenhower years to realize that perils of this sort are bipartisan.

The truth is that if the Democrats were in the saddle today they would be glad to take credit for the present condition of the country.

Surely issues exist or will develop on which Democrats may vigorously and honestly oppose the party in power. The GOP is no more perfect than were the Democrats before them. But Stevenson, seeking out this combat ground, has begun with an artificial effort that is not too likely to register well with Americans who have their own eyes to see how things are.

OLD PEOPLE ARE YOUNGER

People not only live longer today, they stay young longer. This was the gist of several addresses at the annual meeting of the Gerontological Society, an organization studying the problems of old age.

Many accepted ideas about old people derive from observations made in institutions and hospitals. There the inmates are a special group in late stages of deterioration and illness. The picture would be different if we took into account the mass of the aged today. Many of these are in good health, contented and employed.

The shorter work week has had a good effect on the elderly. The outmoded 60-to-70-hour work week, with no paid vacations, gave the body little chance to rest, so that it wore out faster. Today's 40-hour week, with paid vacations, contributes to the worker's physical and mental wellbeing.

One inference from these discoveries is that employers should be more willing to keep or employ workers of advanced years. Employers may be basing their reluctance on wrong notions of what the elderly really are and can do.

Those quiz programs that give away fantastic sums have started to influence everyday living. There's the story of the youngster who didn't know what date Columbus discovered America and wanted to know what the consolation prize was going to be.

FOSTER PARENTS

In the prolonged discussion I am having with all sorts of people about parentless children, I have been assaulted by social workers who tell me that only they know about children, and by foster parents who accuse me of believing that they go into this business only for the dough they get.

One intelligent foster mother writes me as follows:

"The State of Connecticut probably pays as much as any, more than most, for this care, and do you know what it is? We foster parents receive about seven cents an hour for each child. Out of this seven cents we are to provide food, beds, bed-linen, towels, hair cuts, shoe repair, band-ades, toys, transportation to doctor or dentist, amusements, and much else. The State buys clothing and pays the medical bills. Also, they contribute a small weekly spending allowance for each child, not enough to meet the expenses in a Scout club, or a church youth group. For bikes, footballs, basketballs, ice skates, roller skates, dolls, color books, bats, gloves, dominoes, or any of the other things these children want, and must have in order not to be 'different' just because they are homeless, the State pays nothing."

But the State would have no expense if these children were adopted into homes which need children but cannot have any naturally. In such homes, the parents would pay all the bills as they do for natural children. But I am told many parents only want to get rid of their children temporarily. They put them into orphan asylums only for a period and will not agree to adoption by anyone else. All sorts of reasons for this are given by my correspondents who seem to agree that it is right that parents should abandon their children temporarily. One of the reasons given in my correspondence is that the parents are poor which to me is no reason at all.

After all, most of the parents among whom I grew up were poor and they had large families, and none of them abandoned their children to social workers or put them out to pasture in foster homes at the expense of the state. And many of them sent their sons to college out of the pennies earned on push-carts. How they did it will puzzle the high standard of living folks in this welfare state but they did do it, and the sons and daughters are around to tell of it.

In this exciting discussion, no one has yet raised the issue of the unwed mother who abandons her baby. What, morally, are her rights? She will not give the child a father's name nor his protection. She hands over his child; sometimes even before it is born, to a stranger, occasionally for pay. She lacked the moral restraints and physical self-control to keep from having a child. But when the case-worker comes around with adoption papers, she holds out for religious reasons, after she has abandoned religion as she has abandoned her child.

One would imagine that she would be only too happy to give the little tyke a break, see him well placed among decent, comfortable, intelligent people who would give him an opportunity for education and advancement. But no! She handicapped him by illegitimacy; and now she wishes further to handicap him by keeping him from opportunity in life. Are we to resolve the child's future in the interest of such a mother or in the interest of the child?

Surely such a mother is worthy of no consideration and if such an unfortunate child can be placed in a good home, there is no reason why her selfishness should play any part in the decisions that are to be made. The child ought not to be deprived of the advantages of life to satisfy the whims of a strumpet.

Maybe I am an old sentimentalist but I believe that the child should come first. He ought not to be a case with a number but a human being to be gently nurtured. For the child, the best place is a home where there is a father and a mother who will regard him as a gift from Heaven and act accordingly.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

RECOGNIZING ACUTE APPENDICITIS

We all know the death rate from acute appendicitis — known in the old days before its cause was discovered as "inflammation of the bowels — has been cut enormously in recent years. This has been done by early recognition and operation on the part of physicians and surgeons and by programs of public education in how to recognize this potential killer. The fact remains, however, that at least 217 persons die from acute appendicitis each month. Why is this so?

Drs. E. L. Keyes and B. O. Hawk of the St. Louis University School of Medicine believe that the reason for this death rate is that the symptoms which are supposed to be sure indicators of appendictis do not always occur and consequently there is a delay in the diagnosis and operation beyond the safe twenty-fourth hour. Indeed one research physician found that the so-called classic irad—pain, nausea and vomiting, and right-sided tenderness in that order—were absent in half or more of all cases.

The three most common symptoms, they now feel, are persistent pain in the midline, loss of appetite, and downward urge. To be characteristic of acute appendicitis, it is felt that certain symptoms should occur in over 90 per cent of cases. During the first eight hours, three symptoms appeared in over 90 per cent of cases — midline persistent pain, loss of appetite and an increase in leukocytes (one of the colorless cells in the blood—from 10,000 to 28,000). Tenderness in the rectum occurred in 87 per cent of all cases and was more common than tenderness on the right side which has been considered one of the surest signals of appendicitis.

Of 100 patients studied, all had pain which persisted for at least six hours and in some instances for as long as 19 days, from onset to operation. The midline was the site of origin of pain most often and the persistence of the initial pain was the most characteristic of all the features of acute appendicitis. This initial pain is so mild, it often feels no worse to patients than "indigestion, cramps, or a stomachache, not severe but just enough to annoy me." However, as the hours passed, the pain progressed in intensity in most of the patients and then later died down. Many noticed a general shift of the pain downward. Being aware of this fact has hastened diagnoses which otherwise might have been delayed waiting for the pain to go to the right lower abdomen.

"We should remember the following points so as to recognize acute appendicitis as early as possible. 1. Pain, usually mild at first, in the midline. 2. A downward urge to pass stools. 3. Tenderness of the rectum. 4. Loss of appetite. 5. The rule that the initial midline pain persisted for at least six hours in acute appendicitis has helped to distinguish the onset of acute appendicitis from many other symptoms. "Why risk the death of a patient awaiting vomiting, awaiting right-sided tenderness. Promptly respond to the danger of 'abdominal cramps progressing six hours.' Suspect acute appendicitis."

Well, Well, Another Trojan Horse!

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Hotel Petersberg, Konigswinter, Germany—When Bonn was chosen as the capital of the new German Federal Republic, the owners of the Hotel Petersberg got a wonderful break. Bonn is a nice little second-rate university city on the Rhine and it happened to be old Konrad Adenauer's home grounds. His home is across the river, his roots were down in this region of the wine country, he is selfish and he obviously did not have many years to go.

A big, rich nation has to roll out the red carpet for visiting firemen and there were not enough hotels in Bonn, Bad Godesberg and Mehlem, which run into one another, to hive up the journalists, lobbyists, spies and other routine traffic. So the Bonn government picked the Petersberg on the mountain across the river to be its Blair House. Thus, the treasury pays a subsidy to the owners of the Petersberg, whoever they are. I take it that they are, if not dear friends of old Adenauer, then, anyway, not implacable enemies.

There is a constant round of festivities at the Petersberg and I have been fascinated by the billing of kangaroo-tail soup on the score-card. The price is only 50 cents, compared with $5.25 per dab for Russian caviar, actually measured by the grain and not the best, either. It is my own conclusion that the Australian kangaroo ranchers get nothing out of this traffic because the soup tastes no different from the vulgar but appetizing ox-tail soup which is found in the lesser houses. However, the term "kangaroo-tail soup" gives the place an air and one gets restless to be home at the Sunday night buffet supper at the country club to mention this exotic delicacy shared with Haile Selassie.

Selassie is one of very few dignitaries who were housed here at federal government expense and possibly, in the long run, at your expense and mine, who left anything for the waiters, maids and porters. He tore up quite a spot of money for tips when he was checking out. It is possible, of course, that the British taxpayers eventually pick up the tab because he is their boy, or, anyway, their foreign office thinks he is their boy. However, the Moscovite Reds have an enormous embassy staff at Addis Ababa, drenching the dumb, scratchy savages with exciting propaganda, so it is hard to say just whose boy the Negus is just now or whose boy any boy is among these lesser breeds. The Fascist Italians snicker and smirk at all this because they were jabbing the Abyssinians with stuff for syphilis and their cattle with juice to save their calves and make them healthy when Britain hollered up the "sanctions" against the Duce. Now the whole country is going back to weeds and the people are again prey to hastening ills which make them break out and feel poorly.

When delegations land at the Cologne airport, the protocol department goes into action. I have a typical program for the visit of "their excellencies, the prime minister of the kingdom of Thailand, Field Marshal P. Pibulsonggram and Mrs. Laiad Pibulsonggram." They were attended by "their excellencies, Dr. Rak Panyarachun, the deputy foreign minister," and frau, "His Excellency, Lieut.-Gen. Mom Luang Kharb Kunjara, secretary-general and aide-de-camp to His Excellency, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Kunjara" and "Mom Luang Peekdhip Malakul, chief of protocol," and frau. This little folder is printed on very white stock in elegant type and has an eagle embossed in gold on the front cover and a white silken page-marker. These elaborate honorifics for barefoot, straw-village political adventurers are no more fantastic than the same titles for the likes of Anthony Eden, but that does not abate the absurdity. Our Mr. Dulles tries to waive such nonsense but our own beloved paper-collar Joe Davies, from the frontier lumber camp of Hurley, Wis., who flew the serio-comic mission to Moscow, used to insist that his own butler refer to him as "his excellency" and "the ambassador," even in Florida.

Every minute of the waking hours is plotted. The "dress order" lays down rigid rules for the attire of all concerned at all times. The "arrival" calls for "dark suit, black soft hat and dark overcoat" and God help the oaf who shows up in a checkered cap and turtleneck sweater! That would be a deliberately unfriendly act and thousands might die. At dinner, civilian officials wear "full dress with decorations" and the officers "uniform with decorations." If a fellow hasn't got any decorations, it is easy enough to award him a couple of rows in time for the valet to stitch them on.

They pay visits to the Mercedes automobile plant and government offices, to smelters and city halls, they sign golden books and, if they look good for a big order of tractors, diesels or freight cars, they get a personal hojja-do from Alfred Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach at his Villa Hugel.

All this done, they get an elaborate bum's rush and the next deputation puts down while pretty little Hilde and pretty little Maria smack up the beds and tidy up the suites. Hilde and Maria get few tips and they both want to come to America as domestics but they would be picked off and married before they could get as far as Yorkville.

These deputations, as guests of the government, naturally can't pay for anything. So the treasury sends a check up the hill with 15 per cent added for tips to Shorty Weck, the upstairs waiter, and Hilde, Maria and the porter and all. Most of the dignitaries are too stately to acknowledge the existence of menials so the pickings are small and the servants never really know what the bills were or what their percentage is. The management has the last word.

We had the Mexican Foreign minister and troupe and an Indonesian mission during my sojourn. They sit stiffly at long tables in the big dining-room, raise their glasses, clink and sip, usually wine, except the oriental and African abstainers, who take fruit juice and shovel in hods of that caviar. A few days later, they order a fleet of tankers from Bremen or locomotives from Massel and the hotel bill goes down the hill to the treasury.

Talk by Kaganovich Is Seen Reaffirming Red War on West

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 9 — Soviet Russia's declaration of war against the western world has been reaffirmed by Vice Premier Lazar Kaganovich.

Disregarding entirely the "Geneva spirit" and virtually expressing contempt for the arguments of western statesmen, the Soviet spokesman in a public speech on the anniversary of the Red revolution says:

"Under the banner of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin we have triumphed and will continue to triumph to full victory under communism."

THIS ISN'T just "political" communism which the vice premier is talking about, but the communism of an aggressor nation. It infiltrates the governments of neighboring territory, or else puts the troops of Communist armies of occupation into such areas to terrorize the people and prevent free elections.

The Soviet regime for ten years, since the close of World War 2, has been carrying on its conspiracy to overthrow governments from within and these "triumphs" now stretch from Eastern Europe to Eastern and Southeastern Asia with notable acquisition of strength in the Middle East.

The aggressive action of the Soviet Union has been constant. It has brought into its orbit of control hundreds of millions of persons. The Western world, which has been anxious to negotiate a "compromise" or a "modus vivendi" or some sort of agreement to permit "peaceful co-existence," is being told now that in effect only unconditional surrender will be accepted by the Communist regime in Moscow.

THE LATEST news from the Geneva conference underlines the uncompromising attitude of the Kremlin. Reunification of Germany has been brushed aside by Foreign Minister Molotov as "premature.' Actually he has denounced the idea of "free elections" and brazenly contends that the "all-German" state he has in mind must be a coalition dictated by the Kremlin. It's the story all over again of Poland and Yalta.

The Allied statesmen have been trying to make the best of a bad situation. They have endeavored to appear optimistic. They have exercised a sort of self-restraint in public expression so as not to offend the Russians or aggravate the situation generally. But it is all in vain. The Soviet has misconstrued the Western attitude as one of craven weakness.

THE DIPLOMATIC way out of such an impasse is to propose another conference. When the whole world was propagandized on the issue of a "conference at the summit" public expectation of a success was so pronounced that the failure to agree on anything substantial led to a formula of postponement or deferred action—the plan for a meeting of the Big Four ministers. This meeting was described by the President last summer as "the acid test."

Now the "acid test" has come and the Russians are intransigeant. The Geneva spirit has been considerably changed and the negotiations are back where they have been for the last ten years—with an adamant, unyielding Russia seeking world domination and repeatedly saying "no" to the West.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States, fortunately, are united in rejecting the Molotov proposals. They show their displeasure publicly. This may bring about some slight modification by the Russians which can be hailed as a "concession" and then a plan will be announced for another four-power conference to be held in the spring.

This device helps to sustain the hopes of those who think that the Russians can be worn down. But they never have exhibited any such exhaustibility heretofore and there is no reason to believe they will make any material concessions.

THERE ARE, on the other hand, some on the western side who are preaching defeatism and appeasement. As long as the Soviets think public opinion in the Western countries is willing to buy peace at any price there is less likely to be any yielding on anything essential by the Russians.

Little by little the world is being educated painfully on the subject of Russian belligerency and rigidity of purpose. The Kremlin announces openly it is embarked on a world struggle to secure the triumph of communism which, of course, means Communist imperialism and Communist tyranny.

The oppressed peoples in eastern Europe had had no illusions. They have been waiting for the western statesmen to wake up to the realities any they have felt all along that in the end the Geneva conferences would prove the faithlessness of the Russians and, hence, would have a great value in enlightening the western world. That is the best product of the "Geneva spirit" to date.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—The one greatest factor influencing President Eisenhower's decision about candidacy will be world peace next February or March.

This is the opinion of Paul G. Hoffman, board chairman of Studebaker-Packard and one of the President's closest unofficial advisers.

He is one of the men most responsible for persuading General Eisenhower to become Republican candidate in 1952. He subsequently became organizer of the Citizens for Eisenhower movement.

His option can't be brushed off lightly, though it is not based on any talk with the President since his heart attack.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER is dedicated to one idea more than any other, says Mr. Hoffman. This is the establishment of world peace. The President willl do anythng and everything he can to end the war, regardless of the burden it would put on him personally.

It seems to be the opinion of nearly everyone closely associated with the President that he will recover and be physically fit for a second term.

This opinion is held by Cabinet officers and White House aides alike. Mr. Hoffman shares the view. They all now say that too many people—particularly Democrats—were too quick in writing Eisenhower off.

THE ONE BIG CATCH in this analysis, Mr. Hoffman feels, will be the condition of the international situation early next spring, when the President has to make his big decision.

If the Geneva conferencs of Big Four Foreign Ministers makes progress on settling German unification, Europena security and disarmament, President Eisenhower might be influenced to withdraw.

If the prospect for world peace looks good in the years ahead, President Eisenhower would be eager to turn the responsibilities of his great crusade over to a successor, says Hoffman.

BUT IN HIS HUMBLE OPINION, the world situation next February of March isn't going to be any better. The most dangerous phrase of the cold war may be just ahead, he believes. His opinion is based on his recent trip to Europe, talking to leaders there.

This being the situation, it is the considered Hoffman opinion that President Eisenhower will see, late next winter or early next spring, that his mission had not been accomplished. Then, Hoffman believes, he will allow his name to be presented for renomination.

WANTED BY DEMS: AN ISSUE

Adlai Stevenson, whose announcement of presidential candidacy later this month is taken for granted, is entering a period of test and he knows it. On many sides he has heard it said that he must "make a fight of it."

By that is meant that he must show a willingness to take on all comers, both within and without his party. That includes readiness to match strength in various 1956 presidential primaries with any other Democrats who may choose to run.

Recently Minnesota leaders endorsed him and urged him to enter their primary. A day earlier Stevenson had given a Minnesota audience a sample of his fighting talk.

He said the Republicans are "creating and encouraging the illusion" that all is well "or at least better" in both the foreign and domestic field. In his view the illusion is false.

What he appeared to be saying was that the nation is not so prosperous as the GOP claims, nor is it so close to peace as constant emphasis on the new "Geneva spirit" suggests.

This sort of talk may or may not sound good to Democratic ears in some future primary test. There is surely a question how well it will be received by voters generally.

In the first place, both before and after the summertime Geneva meeting "at the summit," many key Republicans in government warned against expecting too much from the conference. They did not allege "miracles" as Stevenson declared.

Secondly, outside the farm area, wherever everyone acknowledges the problem of the long price decline, the evidence does not seem to lend much support to Stevenson's contention that prosperity is an illusion.

Certain it is that there are bad employment spots, but so there were in the prosperous years under the Democrats. Some of these have been stubbornly unyielding for years.

Certain it is, too, that there are dangers in present prosperity—the expansion of credit, renewal of inflation, and so on. But one needs only to look back to the pre-Eisenhower years to realize that perils of this sort are bipartisan.

The truth is that if the Democrats were in the saddle today they would be glad to take credit for the present condition of the country.

Surely issues exist or will develop on which Democrats may vigorously and honestly oppose the party in power. The GOP is no more perfect than were the Democrats before them. But Stevenson, seeking out this combat ground, has begun with an artificial effort that is not too likely to register well with Americans who have their own eyes to see how things are.

OLD PEOPLE ARE YOUNGER

People not only live longer today, they stay young longer. This was the gist of several addresses at the annual meeting of the Gerontological Society, an organization studying the problems of old age.

Many accepted ideas about old people derive from observations made in institutions and hospitals. There the inmates are a special group in late stages of deterioration and illness. The picture would be different if we took into account the mass of the aged today. Many of these are in good health, contented and employed.

The shorter work week has had a good effect on the elderly. The outmoded 60-to-70-hour work week, with no paid vacations, gave the body little chance to rest, so that it wore out faster. Today's 40-hour week, with paid vacations, contributes to the worker's physical and mental wellbeing.

One inference from these discoveries is that employers should be more willing to keep or employ workers of advanced years. Employers may be basing their reluctance on wrong notions of what the elderly really are and can do.

Those quiz programs that give away fantastic sums have started to influence everyday living. There's the story of the youngster who didn't know what date Columbus discovered America and wanted to know what the consolation prize was going to be.

FOSTER PARENTS

In the prolonged discussion I am having with all sorts of people about parentless children, I have been assaulted by social workers who tell me that only they know about children, and by foster parents who accuse me of believing that they go into this business only for the dough they get.

One intelligent foster mother writes me as follows:

"The State of Connecticut probably pays as much as any, more than most, for this care, and do you know what it is? We foster parents receive about seven cents an hour for each child. Out of this seven cents we are to provide food, beds, bed-linen, towels, hair cuts, shoe repair, band-ades, toys, transportation to doctor or dentist, amusements, and much else. The State buys clothing and pays the medical bills. Also, they contribute a small weekly spending allowance for each child, not enough to meet the expenses in a Scout club, or a church youth group. For bikes, footballs, basketballs, ice skates, roller skates, dolls, color books, bats, gloves, dominoes, or any of the other things these children want, and must have in order not to be 'different' just because they are homeless, the State pays nothing."

But the State would have no expense if these children were adopted into homes which need children but cannot have any naturally. In such homes, the parents would pay all the bills as they do for natural children. But I am told many parents only want to get rid of their children temporarily. They put them into orphan asylums only for a period and will not agree to adoption by anyone else. All sorts of reasons for this are given by my correspondents who seem to agree that it is right that parents should abandon their children temporarily. One of the reasons given in my correspondence is that the parents are poor which to me is no reason at all.

After all, most of the parents among whom I grew up were poor and they had large families, and none of them abandoned their children to social workers or put them out to pasture in foster homes at the expense of the state. And many of them sent their sons to college out of the pennies earned on push-carts. How they did it will puzzle the high standard of living folks in this welfare state but they did do it, and the sons and daughters are around to tell of it.

In this exciting discussion, no one has yet raised the issue of the unwed mother who abandons her baby. What, morally, are her rights? She will not give the child a father's name nor his protection. She hands over his child; sometimes even before it is born, to a stranger, occasionally for pay. She lacked the moral restraints and physical self-control to keep from having a child. But when the case-worker comes around with adoption papers, she holds out for religious reasons, after she has abandoned religion as she has abandoned her child.

One would imagine that she would be only too happy to give the little tyke a break, see him well placed among decent, comfortable, intelligent people who would give him an opportunity for education and advancement. But no! She handicapped him by illegitimacy; and now she wishes further to handicap him by keeping him from opportunity in life. Are we to resolve the child's future in the interest of such a mother or in the interest of the child?

Surely such a mother is worthy of no consideration and if such an unfortunate child can be placed in a good home, there is no reason why her selfishness should play any part in the decisions that are to be made. The child ought not to be deprived of the advantages of life to satisfy the whims of a strumpet.

Maybe I am an old sentimentalist but I believe that the child should come first. He ought not to be a case with a number but a human being to be gently nurtured. For the child, the best place is a home where there is a father and a mother who will regard him as a gift from Heaven and act accordingly.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

RECOGNIZING ACUTE APPENDICITIS

We all know the death rate from acute appendicitis — known in the old days before its cause was discovered as "inflammation of the bowels — has been cut enormously in recent years. This has been done by early recognition and operation on the part of physicians and surgeons and by programs of public education in how to recognize this potential killer. The fact remains, however, that at least 217 persons die from acute appendicitis each month. Why is this so?

Drs. E. L. Keyes and B. O. Hawk of the St. Louis University School of Medicine believe that the reason for this death rate is that the symptoms which are supposed to be sure indicators of appendictis do not always occur and consequently there is a delay in the diagnosis and operation beyond the safe twenty-fourth hour. Indeed one research physician found that the so-called classic irad—pain, nausea and vomiting, and right-sided tenderness in that order—were absent in half or more of all cases.

The three most common symptoms, they now feel, are persistent pain in the midline, loss of appetite, and downward urge. To be characteristic of acute appendicitis, it is felt that certain symptoms should occur in over 90 per cent of cases. During the first eight hours, three symptoms appeared in over 90 per cent of cases — midline persistent pain, loss of appetite and an increase in leukocytes (one of the colorless cells in the blood—from 10,000 to 28,000). Tenderness in the rectum occurred in 87 per cent of all cases and was more common than tenderness on the right side which has been considered one of the surest signals of appendicitis.

Of 100 patients studied, all had pain which persisted for at least six hours and in some instances for as long as 19 days, from onset to operation. The midline was the site of origin of pain most often and the persistence of the initial pain was the most characteristic of all the features of acute appendicitis. This initial pain is so mild, it often feels no worse to patients than "indigestion, cramps, or a stomachache, not severe but just enough to annoy me." However, as the hours passed, the pain progressed in intensity in most of the patients and then later died down. Many noticed a general shift of the pain downward. Being aware of this fact has hastened diagnoses which otherwise might have been delayed waiting for the pain to go to the right lower abdomen.

"We should remember the following points so as to recognize acute appendicitis as early as possible. 1. Pain, usually mild at first, in the midline. 2. A downward urge to pass stools. 3. Tenderness of the rectum. 4. Loss of appetite. 5. The rule that the initial midline pain persisted for at least six hours in acute appendicitis has helped to distinguish the onset of acute appendicitis from many other symptoms. "Why risk the death of a patient awaiting vomiting, awaiting right-sided tenderness. Promptly respond to the danger of 'abdominal cramps progressing six hours.' Suspect acute appendicitis."

The management has the last word.

We had the Mexican Foreign minister and troupe and an Indonesian mission during my sojourn. They sit stiffly at long tables in the big dining-room, raise their glasses, clink and sip, usually wine, except the oriental and African abstainers, who take fruit juice and shovel in hods of that caviar. A few days later, they order a fleet of tankers from Bremen or locomotives from Massel and the hotel bill goes down the hill to the treasury.

Talk by Kaganovich Is Seen Reaffirming Red War on West

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 9 — Soviet Russia's declaration of war against the western world has been reaffirmed by Vice Premier Lazar Kaganovich.

Disregarding entirely the "Geneva spirit" and virtually expressing contempt for the arguments of western statesmen, the Soviet spokesman in a public speech on the anniversary of the Red revolution says:

"Under the banner of Marx, Engels, Lenin and Stalin we have triumphed and will continue to triumph to full victory under communism."

THIS ISN'T just "political" communism which the vice premier is talking about, but the communism of an aggressor nation. It infiltrates the governments of neighboring territory, or else puts the troops of Communist armies of occupation into such areas to terrorize the people and prevent free elections.

The Soviet regime for ten years, since the close of World War 2, has been carrying on its conspiracy to overthrow governments from within and these "triumphs" now stretch from Eastern Europe to Eastern and Southeastern Asia with notable acquisition of strength in the Middle East.

The aggressive action of the Soviet Union has been constant. It has brought into its orbit of control hundreds of millions of persons. The Western world, which has been anxious to negotiate a "compromise" or a "modus vivendi" or some sort of agreement to permit "peaceful co-existence," is being told now that in effect only unconditional surrender will be accepted by the Communist regime in Moscow.

THE LATEST news from the Geneva conference underlines the uncompromising attitude of the Kremlin. Reunification of Germany has been brushed aside by Foreign Minister Molotov as "premature.' Actually he has denounced the idea of "free elections" and brazenly contends that the "all-German" state he has in mind must be a coalition dictated by the Kremlin. It's the story all over again of Poland and Yalta.

The Allied statesmen have been trying to make the best of a bad situation. They have endeavored to appear optimistic. They have exercised a sort of self-restraint in public expression so as not to offend the Russians or aggravate the situation generally. But it is all in vain. The Soviet has misconstrued the Western attitude as one of craven weakness.

THE DIPLOMATIC way out of such an impasse is to propose another conference. When the whole world was propagandized on the issue of a "conference at the summit" public expectation of a success was so pronounced that the failure to agree on anything substantial led to a formula of postponement or deferred action—the plan for a meeting of the Big Four ministers. This meeting was described by the President last summer as "the acid test."

Now the "acid test" has come and the Russians are intransigeant. The Geneva spirit has been considerably changed and the negotiations are back where they have been for the last ten years—with an adamant, unyielding Russia seeking world domination and repeatedly saying "no" to the West.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States, fortunately, are united in rejecting the Molotov proposals. They show their displeasure publicly. This may bring about some slight modification by the Russians which can be hailed as a "concession" and then a plan will be announced for another four-power conference to be held in the spring.

This device helps to sustain the hopes of those who think that the Russians can be worn down. But they never have exhibited any such exhaustibility heretofore and there is no reason to believe they will make any material concessions.

THERE ARE, on the other hand, some on the western side who are preaching defeatism and appeasement. As long as the Soviets think public opinion in the Western countries is willing to buy peace at any price there is less likely to be any yielding on anything essential by the Russians.

Little by little the world is being educated painfully on the subject of Russian belligerency and rigidity of purpose. The Kremlin announces openly it is embarked on a world struggle to secure the triumph of communism which, of course, means Communist imperialism and Communist tyranny.

The oppressed peoples in eastern Europe had had no illusions. They have been waiting for the western statesmen to wake up to the realities any they have felt all along that in the end the Geneva conferences would prove the faithlessness of the Russians and, hence, would have a great value in enlightening the western world. That is the best product of the "Geneva spirit" to date.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—The one greatest factor influencing President Eisenhower's decision about candidacy will be world peace next February or March.

This is the opinion of Paul G. Hoffman, board chairman of Studebaker-Packard and one of the President's closest unofficial advisers.

He is one of the men most responsible for persuading General Eisenhower to become Republican candidate in 1952. He subsequently became organizer of the Citizens for Eisenhower movement.

His option can't be brushed off lightly, though it is not based on any talk with the President since his heart attack.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER is dedicated to one idea more than any other, says Mr. Hoffman. This is the establishment of world peace. The President willl do anythng and everything he can to end the war, regardless of the burden it would put on him personally.

It seems to be the opinion of nearly everyone closely associated with the President that he will recover and be physically fit for a second term.

This opinion is held by Cabinet officers and White House aides alike. Mr. Hoffman shares the view. They all now say that too many people—particularly Democrats—were too quick in writing Eisenhower off.

THE ONE BIG CATCH in this analysis, Mr. Hoffman feels, will be the condition of the international situation early next spring, when the President has to make his big decision.

If the Geneva conferencs of Big Four Foreign Ministers makes progress on settling German unification, Europena security and disarmament, President Eisenhower might be influenced to withdraw.

If the prospect for world peace looks good in the years ahead, President Eisenhower would be eager to turn the responsibilities of his great crusade over to a successor, says Hoffman.

BUT IN HIS HUMBLE OPINION, the world situation next February of March isn't going to be any better. The most dangerous phrase of the cold war may be just ahead, he believes. His opinion is based on his recent trip to Europe, talking to leaders there.

This being the situation, it is the considered Hoffman opinion that President Eisenhower will see, late next winter or early next spring, that his mission had not been accomplished. Then, Hoffman believes, he will allow his name to be presented for renomination.

Workshop to Be Help for Local Business Heads

Many Kingston area "small" businessmen, those having only two or three employes, will become subject to the new provisions of the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law starting January 1, 1956.

As registration and the keeping of certain records are necessary, the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a special workshop session Monday evening, November 14 at 8 p. m. at which John D. Shea, principal payroll examiner of the State Labor Department's Division of Employment will explain the new regulations and requirements. The workshop will be held in the supervisor's room of the County Court House on Wall street.

IN MAKING this announcement today Albert Kurdt, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said that this organization was cooperating with several state-wide business groups and the Labor Department in putting on an intensive drive to acquaint all small businessmen with the new provisions of the law. "Heavy penalties are provided for in the law," Kurdt said, "and our State Legislative Affairs Committee is very anxious to acquaint all business and professional men, who might be affected, with the new provisions of the State Unemployment Insurance Law. That's the reason for the workshop meeting on November 14."

This meeting is open to the public. All employers of two or three persons on any single day of the year, are invited and urged to attend.

A release from the State Labor Department states that heavy penalties are provided for any business coming under the provisions of the law which fails to pay the unemployment insurance taxes. The employer will have to pay all the back taxes and interest at the rate of nine per cent a year. And under the law that tax bill cannot be compromised.

Further details about the November 14 workshop meeting may be obtained from the office of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Favors Decision By Congress on Help for Farmer

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.) said today he hopes President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson will let Congress decide what is best for the farmer.

He expressed the view that Congress will complete action next year on new legislation that will include a return to high, rigid price supports, taking some crop land out of production and programs to cut down present surpluses.

"IT IS MY hope that President Eisenhower and Secretary Benson will respect the judgment of Congress rather than advisory groups," Humphrey said in an interview.

"It is my understanding that the President would veto a bill that merely restored the high support levels," he continued, "but I am not sure he would veto a bill that combined some of these other features with it."

EISENHOWER only recently at Denver solidly backed Benson, who has given no indication on change in the administration stand for the flexible support program now in effect.

Eisenhower is expected to send a special message to Congress early next year with specific suggestions for new farm legislation.

Humphrey said the farm situation will be the No. 1 domestic issue in the 1956 elections. Others, he said, will be the tax and fiscal policies, conservation and resource development and "big business domination of the government," in that order.

"Goood Bye to the Clown," directed by Mr. Ross, has a cast consisting of Kathryn Whitehead, Barbara Granwehr, Martin Dale, Roger Dordick, Carol Dean and Barbara Welsh. Eugene Lang, Donna Vozdik, Roger Smith, Patricia Hackett, Mary Woerthmann and Caroline Misasi compose the cast of "Scenario by Julian," directed by Mrs. Flewelling.

There will be one musical number before the plays and three numbers between the two comedies.

Tickets for the plays may now be purchased from any senior.

3 GI Turncoats Free But Future Looks Uncertain

San Francisco, Nov. 9 (AP)—Three turncoat former U. S. soldiers who once renounced "the land of McCarthyism and McCarranism" for life with their Communist Chinese captors were free today—but their future was uncertain.

The army, acting on orders of a federal judge, yesterday released Otho G. Bell, William A. Cowart and Lewie W. Griggs from Ft. Baker stockade.

AS PHOTOGRAPHERS and reporters crowded around, Cowart, 22 of Dalton, Ga., said as spokesman for the three:

"We feel now about American justice the same as always. We're in the most democratic country in the world."

Griggs, 23, of Neches, Tex., typically said nothing.

Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss., declared in an emotion-charged voice "I'm going to do everything in my power to prove myself a good American citizen by doing everything in my power to destroy communism."

How long they remain free is a question.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled Monday that civilians cannot be tried in military courts for offenses allegedly committed while they were in service.

Diabetes Week CommitteeNamed

Dr. Curtis P. Bight, chairman of the Diabetes Detection Drive, today announced the names of members of his committee who will help him to promote the local observance of Diabetes Week, November 13-19. The following were named: Dr. Herbert Derman, Dr. Harry C. McNamara, Dr. John R. Roberts and Dr. Edward Weissman.

Dr. Bight reported that the Diabetes Detection Drive Committee has met to discuss plans for Diabetes Week and to arrange for testing centers.

Diabetes Week marks the annual renewal of the Diabetes Detection Drive, which is sponsored by the American Diabetes Association with the cooperation of the Ulster County Medical Society.

Diabetes is a chronic condition which develops when the body cannot make full use of some of the foods one eats, such as carbohydrates (sugars and starches).

There are about 1,000,000 Americans who have developed the disease but do not know it. Early discovery will help them to avoid the serious or even fatal complications which follow from neglect of the ailment. With proper medical treatment, a diabetic can expect to live a full, useful and happy life.

Accidental electric shock causes about 1,000 American deaths a year.

Ancient Bulb Found

Kankakee, Ill. (AP)—An old carbon filament light bulb has been found inside the county courthouse dome. Still in operating condition, it probably was placed there when the building was built in 1911. Television forced its retirement because filament bulbs create interference which appears as a band across the TV screen.

For '56 New Sweep-ahead styling New Sizzle to match

The 1956 Buick SUPER 4-Door Riviera

WHAT YOU SEE pictured here is Buick for 1956—and from the gleam of that "V" grille to the sassy slant of the tail fins, you can see it has no equal for gorgeous good looks.

But what you see from the curb is more than matched by what you feel at the wheel—and that's gospel.

For this Buick gets its zoom from a mighty 322-cubic-inch V8 engine lofted to a new record high in power and compression—and from a spectacular new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

What's new in the '56 Dynaflow is this: in the first inch of pedal travel—and not with wide-open throttle—your Buick moves from standstill to cruise with silk-smooth, instant and certain getaway.

But comes a sudden need for safety-surge action to get out of a tight spot—and you floor the pedal to switch the pitch of this airplane-inspired transmission. Instantly and smoothly, you're at full-power acceleration—a thrill beyond words.

There's a lot more we could tell you about these great new Buicks—about brilliant new interiors, a superb new ride with a safer "sense of direction," and new safety features everywhere you look.

But the best way to get the whole story of the best Buick yet is right at the wheel of one of these '56 beauties. So drop in this week and do just that.

Ancient Bulb Found

Kankakee, Ill. (AP)—An old carbon filament light bulb has been found inside the county courthouse dome. Still in operating condition, it probably was placed there when the building was built in 1911. Television forced its retirement because ... filament bulbs create interference which appears as a band across the TV screen.

Add Fresh Tomato

Ever add fresh tomato to mayonnaise or French dressing? Peel and seed a tomato, then chop fine before making the addition. Good over lettuce sprinkled with lots of minced chives or parsley.

"DROMEDARY" DESIGNATES THE ARABIAN CAMEL WHICH HAS ONLY ONE HUMP.

THE ASIATIC BACTRIAN CAMEL IS DISTINGUISHED BY TWO HUMPS. IT IS SMALLER AND SLOWER THAN THE DROMEDARY, BUT HARDIER AND MORE DOCILE.

Road Bond . . .

additional levies pointed also to the overwhelming defeat of a proposed amendment to the Binghamton City Charter that would have granted an across-the-board increase of $782 a year to police and firemen. The amendment was defeated 15,069 to 7,248.

IF THE PROPOSAL had been approved, Mayor Donald W. Kramer said, he would have considered it a mandate to the city council to put into effect a contemplated one per cent retail sales tax.

Another possible straw in the same wind was rejection by Mount Vernon voters of a proposal for an 8½ million dollar bond issue to construct a cover over railroad tracks running through the city in an open cut. This project however, had been espoused for many years. The turndown vote yesterday was 9,803 to 6,644.

AMENDMENTS AT A GLANCE—The status of the 10 proposed amendments to the state constitution and the one proposition on basis of incomplete, unofficial returns:

Amendment No. 1 (Highway bond issue), defeated.

Amendment No. 2 (Increase housing subsidy) apparently approved.

Amendment No. 3 (Liberalize absentee voting and registration), apparently approved.

Amendment No. 4 (Have the state comptroller take over equalization board's functions), apparently approved.

Amendment No. 5 (Exempt costs of sewage projects from debt limit), defeated.

Amendment No. 6 (Cooperation among communities on sewage projects), approved.

Amendment No. 7 (Panther mountain dam construction), defeated.

Amendment No. 8 (Prohibit judges from running for or holding other public office), apparently approved.

Amendment No. 9 (Temporary appointment of county judges), defeated.

Amendment No. 10 (Temporary appointment of jurists in New York city), defeated.

Proposition (To lend 50 million to limited-profit companies for building housing units for middle-income families), in doubt.

Two City Blazes Checked Tuesday, Today by Firemen

A one-story, frame lean-to structure on the premises of Frank Woinoski, 70 Murray street, was damaged by fire last night and firemen checked a blaze early today in another small frame shack in the Wilbur area.

Firemen were called by an alarm from Box 2311, Hasbrouck avenue and Murray street, at 6:07 p. m. Equipment from Cornell and Central stations and Union Hose Company responded. Both hydrant and pump streams were used on the blaze, which damaged furniture and other items stored in it.

An alarm was sounded at 1:14 a. m., today for the fire in a shack near the former Wilbur stone quarry, from box 3641, Wilbur avenue and Abeel street. The structure was on a hill off Wilbur avenue, and was damaged by the blaze.

Three false alarms were also sounded last night after the closing of election polls.

Newburgh Man Buys Local Junk Yard

to radio-television broadcaster Samuel S. Stratton.

Stratton, who had Liberal party blessing along with his Democratic endorsement, polled 17,129 votes by the unofficial tally to 16,921 for Pfeil.

THE CHAIRMAN of the Schenectady County Democratic Committee, John English, immediately requested the State Election Bureau to impound the voting machines. A spokesman for the organization said this was asked as a precautionary measure.

Before yesterday's elections, the Republicans held 28 mayoral seats, the Democrats held 17 and three were—and continued—under the non-partisan system. In the latter group are Saratoga Springs, Watertown and Jamestown.

ONE OF THE Republicans' 28 seats was held until recently by a Democrat. This was in Hornell, where Francis Hogan resigned to become an assistant industrial commissioner in Gov. Harriman's administration. The Republican-controlled city council appointed Marshall E. Gurnsey to succeed Hogan. Gurnsey lost to the Democratic candidate, Lloyd R. Burdett.

In Newburgh, the surprise winner was George Vergara, a Democrat who ran as an independent. He accomplished the dual feat of whipping long-time Mayor Stanley W. Church, the Democratic-Liberal nominee, and Thomas J. Nolan, the Republican candidate.

THE STATE'S Democratic leaders saw good things in their party's future.

Gov. Averell Harriman asserted "the Democratic trend which started two years ago is continuing and growing."

Tammany Leader Carmine G. DeSapio, who is booming Harriman for the presidency, said "it is evident that the successive Democratic victories since 1952 will continue throughout the country in 1956."

On the other side of the political fence, L. Judson Morhouse, the Republican state chairman, declared that "the Tammany attempt to high-pressure upstate voters has been stopped cold."

FOUR CITIES besides those that elected mayors yesterday will have new chief executives as the result of balloting for city councils. In Rochester, Long Beach, Rome and Sherrill, the council elects a mayor from its own ranks.

The Republicans continued their overwhelming control of the Rochester council, assuring a GOP mayor again there.

Five Democrat-Liberal candidates swept into slots on the Long Beach City Council by margins of two to one or better and held the body under Democratic rule.

The councils in Rome and Sherrill are non-partisan.

On a statewide basis, including the 10 cities that did not elect mayors this year, the political breakdown before the 1955 elections was 32 Republicans, 25 Democrats and five non-partisans.

On the basis of yesterday's balloting, the 1956 breakdown will be 29 Republicans, 27 Democrats, one Independent and five non-partisans.

first ward, Cook having been elected county treasurer.

A CHECK at the Ulster County Board of Elections today with practically all election districts reported, indicated all of the amendments as well as the proposition, had been defeated. Great interest was shown in Amendment No. 1, that which would authorize a $650,000,000 bond issue for highway construction. Also polling a very heavy vote was Amendment No. 7, which would have permitted construction of Panther Mountain Dam in the Adirondacks to regulate the flow of the Moose and Black rivers. This amendment was attacked on the grounds it would violate the state forest preserve and open state lands to power companies.

Opposes County

not be used are inconsistently Mr. Connelly said. He said the reasons were: (1) that it is desired to sell the property and put it back on the tax rolls and (2) that it is desired to use the land for parking.

The Ulster County Bar Association at its October meeting recommended, with one dissenting vote, the retention of a site in uptown Kingston, Mr. Connelly said, and asked that the Board of Supervisors have a public hearing on the matter.

Mr. Connelly's letter said: "We are told that the uptown merchants want the new building taken from the uptown area because of congestion. Each year thousands of people come to uptown Kingston for county purposes such as automobile, hunting and fishing licenses. Many combine business with shopping. County employes, too, are daily patrons of stores and restaurants. The notion that business men do not want to enjoy the advantage of the presence of potential shoppers is incomprehensible to me."

HE POINTED out in his letter that "more metropolitan counties than Ulster have constructed new county centers in business areas," referring to Westchester county at White Plains and Nassau county at Mineola. "Ulster county must be different and use a site that is relatively inaccessible and not even served by public transportation," Mr. Connelly said.

"While I know that it is futile to attack an accomplished fact, the selected site is hostile to the convenience and necessities of not merely the bar but even more so of the public," Mr. Connelly concluded.

To Recall Delegates

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—South Africa announced today she had decided to recall her delegations from the United Nations because of a decision for continued investigation of South Africa's race segregation policy.

are dedicated to the cause of good government. We are deeply grateful to everyone of them."

MAYOR Frederick H. Stang, who was reelected by an overwhelming plurality, said the vote made him feel "exceedingly happy and gratified—but more than that was the fact that it represented the confidence of the people in my administration and that they liked what I did.

"I recognize, and it is with a deep sense of humility that I accept this mandate—and I promise the people of Kingston that their trusted confidence will not be misplaced.

"IF WE WORK together and ask help from a divine power we will keep Kingston moving ahead.

"I want to thank everybody—the workers, the party leaders and everyone who contributed to the splendid victory of yesterday. I am very grateful to you all."

William F. Edelmuth, Democratic opponent of Mayor Stang, conceded early last night as tabulations indicated a clear victory for the incumbent candidate. In doing so he said it was naturally not a happy occasion for him but he wanted to wish Mayor Stang all the luck in the world in his administration.

WHEN ASKED by a television representative if he would appear on the local station later in the evening he declined, remarking that he was "going to a wake."

Raymond Schuler, Jr., who headed publicity for the Democratic campaign, said that "from our defeat the party organization is coming out of it even stronger. No longer will the Democratic party be a party that fights just before election. It will be in full operation 52 weeks a year in order to serve the people of Kingston.

"ALL OF OUR young candidates and workers now offer their services to the Republican administration in order to work to bring true progress to the city of Kingston," he added.

John J. Schwenk, newly elected alderman-at-large, said he was naturally very happy over the results and wanted to thank the people for their "splendid support. I shall earnestly strive to justify the confidence the people of this city placed in me by devoting to the city the best that is within me. I pledge to Mayor Stang my fullest cooperation in carrying out his program for the welfare of all our people during the days of growth and expansion which lie ahead for Kingston."

Two City Blazes Checked Tuesday, Today by Firemen

A one-story, frame lean-to structure on the premises of Frank Woinoski, 70 Murray street, was damaged by fire last night and firemen checked a blaze early today in another small frame shack in the Wilbur area.

Firemen were called by an alarm from Box 2311, Hasbrouck avenue and Murray street, at 6:07 p. m. Equipment from Cornell and Central stations and Union Hose Company responded. Both hydrant and pump streams were used on the blaze, which damaged furniture and other items stored in it.

An alarm was sounded at 1:14 a. m., today for the fire in a shack near the former Wilbur stone quarry, from box 3641, Wilbur avenue and Abeel street. The structure was on a hill off Wilbur avenue, and was damaged by the blaze.

Three false alarms were also sounded last night after the closing of election polls.

Newburgh Man Buys Local Junk Yard

Herman Seralnick of Newburgh announced today he has purchased Katz' Junk Yard, 160 Hasbrouck avenue, owned by Albert Katz.

Mr. Seralnick, whose family has been associated with the junk business in Newburgh over a period of years, said new equipment was being purchased for the operation of the yard, including a tin press.

additional levies pointed also to the overwhelming defeat of a proposed amendment to the Binghamton City Charter that would have granted an across-the-board increase of $782 a year to police and firemen. The amendment was defeated 15,069 to 7,248.

IF THE PROPOSAL had been approved, Mayor Donald W. Kramer said, he would have considered it a mandate to the city council to put into effect a contemplated one per cent retail sales tax.

Another possible straw in the same wind was rejection by Mount Vernon voters of a proposal for an 8½ million dollar bond issue to construct a cover over railroad tracks running through the city in an open cut. This project however, had been espoused for many years. The turndown vote yesterday was 9,803 to 6,644.

to radio-television broadcaster Samuel S. Stratton.

Stratton, who had Liberal party blessing along with his Democratic endorsement, polled 17,129 votes by the unofficial tally to 16,921 for Pfeil.

THE CHAIRMAN of the Schenectady County Democratic Committee, John English, immediately requested the State Election Bureau to impound the voting machines. A spokesman for the organization said this was asked as a precautionary measure.

Before yesterday's elections, the Republicans held 28 mayoral seats, the Democrats held 17 and three were—and continued—under the non-partisan system. In the latter group are Saratoga Springs, Watertown and Jamestown.

ONE OF THE Republicans' 28 seats was held until recently by a Democrat. This was in Hornell, where Francis Hogan resigned to become an assistant industrial commissioner in Gov. Harriman's administration. The Republican-controlled city council appointed Marshall E. Gurnsey to succeed Hogan. Gurnsey lost to the Democratic candidate, Lloyd R. Burdett.

In Newburgh, the surprise winner was George Vergara, a Democrat who ran as an independent. He accomplished the dual feat of whipping long-time Mayor Stanley W. Church, the Democratic-Liberal nominee, and Thomas J. Nolan, the Republican candidate.

THE STATE'S Democratic leaders saw good things in their party's future.

Gov. Averell Harriman asserted "the Democratic trend which started two years ago is continuing and growing."

Tammany Leader Carmine G. DeSapio, who is booming Harriman for the presidency, said "it is evident that the successive Democratic victories since 1952 will continue throughout the country in 1956."

On the other side of the political fence, L. Judson Morhouse, the Republican state chairman, declared that "the Tammany attempt to high-pressure upstate voters has been stopped cold."

FOUR CITIES besides those that elected mayors yesterday will have new chief executives as the result of balloting for city councils. In Rochester, Long Beach, Rome and Sherrill, the council elects a mayor from its own ranks.

The Republicans continued their overwhelming control of the Rochester council, assuring a GOP mayor again there.

Five Democrat-Liberal candidates swept into slots on the Long Beach City Council by margins of two to one or better and held the body under Democratic rule.

The councils in Rome and Sherrill are non-partisan.

On a statewide basis, including the 10 cities that did not elect mayors this year, the political breakdown before the 1955 elections was 32 Republicans, 25 Democrats and five non-partisans.

On the basis of yesterday's balloting, the 1956 breakdown will be 29 Republicans, 27 Democrats, one Independent and five non-partisans.

first ward, Cook having been elected county treasurer.

A CHECK at the Ulster County Board of Elections today with practically all election districts reported, indicated all of the amendments as well as the proposition, had been defeated. Great interest was shown in Amendment No. 1, that which would authorize a $650,000,000 bond issue for highway construction. Also polling a very heavy vote was Amendment No. 7, which would have permitted construction of Panther Mountain Dam in the Adirondacks to regulate the flow of the Moose and Black rivers. This amendment was attacked on the grounds it would violate the state forest preserve and open state lands to power companies.

not be used are inconsistently Mr. Connelly said. He said the reasons were: (1) that it is desired to sell the property and put it back on the tax rolls and (2) that it is desired to use the land for parking.

The Ulster County Bar Association at its October meeting recommended, with one dissenting vote, the retention of a site in uptown Kingston, Mr. Connelly said, and asked that the Board of Supervisors have a public hearing on the matter.

Mr. Connelly's letter said: "We are told that the uptown merchants want the new building taken from the uptown area because of congestion. Each year thousands of people come to uptown Kingston for county purposes such as automobile, hunting and fishing licenses. Many combine business with shopping. County employes, too, are daily patrons of stores and restaurants. The notion that business men do not want to enjoy the advantage of the presence of potential shoppers is incomprehensible to me."

HE POINTED out in his letter that "more metropolitan counties than Ulster have constructed new county centers in business areas," referring to Westchester county at White Plains and Nassau county at Mineola. "Ulster county must be different and use a site that is relatively inaccessible and not even served by public transportation," Mr. Connelly said.

"While I know that it is futile to attack an accomplished fact, the selected site is hostile to the convenience and necessities of not merely the bar but even more so of the public," Mr. Connelly concluded.

To Recall Delegates

United Nations, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—South Africa announced today she had decided to recall her delegations from the United Nations because of a decision for continued investigation of South Africa's race segregation policy.

are dedicated to the cause of good government. We are deeply grateful to everyone of them."

MAYOR Frederick H. Stang, who was reelected by an overwhelming plurality, said the vote made him feel "exceedingly happy and gratified—but more than that was the fact that it represented the confidence of the people in my administration and that they liked what I did.

"I recognize, and it is with a deep sense of humility that I accept this mandate—and I promise the people of Kingston that their trusted confidence will not be misplaced.

"IF WE WORK together and ask help from a divine power we will keep Kingston moving ahead.

"I want to thank everybody—the workers, the party leaders and everyone who contributed to the splendid victory of yesterday. I am very grateful to you all."

William F. Edelmuth, Democratic opponent of Mayor Stang, conceded early last night as tabulations indicated a clear victory for the incumbent candidate. In doing so he said it was naturally not a happy occasion for him but he wanted to wish Mayor Stang all the luck in the world in his administration.

WHEN ASKED by a television representative if he would appear on the local station later in the evening he declined, remarking that he was "going to a wake."

Raymond Schuler, Jr., who headed publicity for the Democratic campaign, said that "from our defeat the party organization is coming out of it even stronger. No longer will the Democratic party be a party that fights just before election. It will be in full operation 52 weeks a year in order to serve the people of Kingston.

"ALL OF OUR young candidates and workers now offer their services to the Republican administration in order to work to bring true progress to the city of Kingston," he added.

John J. Schwenk, newly elected alderman-at-large, said he was naturally very happy over the results and wanted to thank the people for their "splendid support. I shall earnestly strive to justify the confidence the people of this city placed in me by devoting to the city the best that is within me. I pledge to Mayor Stang my fullest cooperation in carrying out his program for the welfare of all our people during the days of growth and expansion which lie ahead for Kingston."

Dulles Charges Red Policy May Endanger Peace

Geneva, Nov. 9 (AP)—The west angrily accused Russia today of seeking the "Sovietization" of all Germany, and U. S. Secretary of State Dulles charged Russian policy perpetuates a danger to the "peace of Europe."

IN RAPID succession, Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay denounced the stand which Soviet Minister Molotov took against German reunification yesterday upon his return here from Moscow.

They appealed to the Soviet government to reconsider its position.

Macmillan called the Big Four conference efforts on Germany a failure and declared that the Soviet Union is using "the happiness, unity and independence of the German people as pawns in its game" to break up the Atlantic Alliance and the Western European Union.

DULLES emphasized two points at the very outset of his blunt statement to Molotov at today's Big Four session—the ninth of this Geneva conference.

First, he said, the Soviet position, if persisted in, will 'perpetuate conditions which put in jeopardy the peace of Europe."

Second, he said, Molotov's speech yesterday "strikes a crippling blow" at the development of relations of confidence between the West and Russia.

Pinay said that Molotov had made it plain he would not agree to the reunification of Germany "until assured of conditions for the Sovietization of all Germany."

Arrest Brings Theft Solution

Local police claim solution of two thefts with the arrest yesterday of Joseph Vincent Schiskey, 17, of Tillson by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons.

The youth was booked on a third degree burglary charge at police headquarters, and City Judge Raymond J. Mino today put the case over until Thursday to allow him time to obtain counsel.

Detective Brophy said he is charged with the theft of tools and a car radio from Wiltwyck Motors and of a rifle from 183½ Elmendorf street. All items were recovered, he said.

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—House investigators today ordered their staff to determine whether the Civil Service Commission (CSC) maintains a security file on members of Congress, industrialists and others. Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) brought the matter to the attention of a government operations subcommittee investigating information policies and practices in the government.

Doubts Wirths' Story

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—The lawyer for a jailed prowler has cast doubt on his story of being at the home of William E. Woodward Jr. on the night of his shotgun death. The prowler, Paul W. Wirths, originally told police he was not on the estate at Oyster Bay in the early morning hours of Oct. 30 when Woodward, 35, was shot and killed by his striking blonde wife, Ann, 39. On Monday Wirths was said by police to have changed his story and to have admitted he was breaking into the house when Mrs. Woodward fired the gun. His new account, as relayed by police, supported on several points her story that she had shot in fear of an intruder and hit her husband by mistake.

Income for Widow

New York, 9 (AP)—Millionaire-sportsman William Woodward Jr., slain with a shotgun fired by his wife, left her a life income from a third of his estate plus $2,500 cash, the filing of his will showed today. Under New York law, a widow must receive a minimum of a third of her husband's estate. Woodward was worth an unofficially estimated 10 million dollars. The will, filed for probate in Surrogate's Court, did not specify the total. He was killed in the hallway of his home 10 days ago when his wife fired at a sound she said she thought was a prowler.

4 Burn to Death

Jackson, Ohio, Nov. 9 (AP)—A grandmother and her three grandchildren burned to death in their frame home two miles west of here today. Victims of the fire were Mrs. Thomas Elkins, 55, and her grandchildren, Victoria Jean Addis, 7, her brother Timothy Wayne Addis, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Addis; and Linda Combs, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Combs. The house caught fire and burned about 7:30 a. m. Authorities who investigated said it had been Mrs. Elkins' habit to get up and build a wood and coal fire, then go back to bed.

Egypt Says U. S.

was giving top-level consideration to asking the UN Security Council to embargo all arms shipments to the Middle East. This was said to be one reason why Washington is reluctant to sell arms quickly to Israel to match Egyptian purchases from Czechoslovakia.

(The embargo plan was said to have been worked out in consultation with Britain and France in Geneva and the three western capitals. The Herald Tribune said the Soviet Union likely would veto the embargo proposal in the Security Council but that such action would "expose Russia to the world as a munitions merchant bent on gambling with the lives and security of millions of people.")

In Geneva, the United States and Britain were reported arranging high level talks within 48 hours to chart their next moves against Russia's diplomatic offensive in the Middle East.

DIPLOMATIC officials in the Swiss city said high priority was being given to a suggestion that either President Eisenhower or British Prime Minister Eden or both appeal directly to Soviet Premier Nickoli Bulganin for Russian cooperation in maintaining peace in the Middle East. U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, both in Geneva for the Big Four Foreign Ministers' meeting, would draft the U. S.-British plan.

The Egyptian statement gave this account of Cairo's arms negotiations:

Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser first asked for U. S. arms in October 1952 but by October 1955, "not a single piece of military equipment" had been received from the United States.

NASSER WARNED U. S. Ambassador Henry Byroade last June Egypt would shop behind the Iron Curtain for armament if certain military needs were not filled by the United States. Washington's reaction was a demand for 27 million dollars in cash for the list of arms—a sum which would have exhausted Egypt's dollar reserves.

Three Bodies Found

Marlin, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP)—Bodies of three men killed in last night's B47B bomber were found today, the first a mile and a half from the major portions of wreckage of the big A-bomb carrier. The first body, face up with the parachute still strapped to his back, was sighted from a plane piloted by Manager Buddy Bostick of Station KWTX-TV, Waco, Tex., who dropped a note to rescue parties and led them to the site. The highway patrol said shortly afterward that the other two bodies also were found a considerable distance from the wreckage. A B47B usually carries a crew of three officers.

Youth Is Shot In Leg While Hunting Tuesday

A 14-year-old boy was shot in the leg with a .22 caliber bullet while hunting with a companion in the High Woods section shortly before noon Tuesday, it was reported this morning by Kingston State Police.

James Carl O'Connor, Jr., of Route 3, Saugerties, was treated for a flesh wound in his left thigh when a rifle in the hand of a companion, Robert John Wolven, 14, of 18 Market street, Saugerties, discharged accidentally, Trooper Edward Shannon said.

Young O'Connor was treated by Dr. B. W. Gifford of Saugerties and released. He was reported in "good" condition.

ACCORDING to Trooper Shannon, the bullet was discharged when young Wolven pleced a shell in the chamber and slammed the bolt forward. The bullet penetrated the muscle of young O'Connor's thigh.

The two boys, each with a .22 caliber rifle, were hunting in the vicinity of the O'Connor home at the time of the mishap.

Arrest Brings Theft Solution

Local police claim solution of two thefts with the arrest yesterday of Joseph Vincent Schiskey, 17, of Tillson by Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons.

The youth was booked on a third degree burglary charge at police headquarters, and City Judge Raymond J. Mino today put the case over until Thursday to allow him time to obtain counsel.

Detective Brophy said he is charged with the theft of tools and a car radio from Wiltwyck Motors and of a rifle from 183½ Elmendorf street. All items were recovered, he said.

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—House investigators today ordered their staff to determine whether the Civil Service Commission (CSC) maintains a security file on members of Congress, industrialists and others. Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) brought the matter to the attention of a government operations subcommittee investigating information policies and practices in the government.

MEET AT ACADEMY—Cadet Robert T. Shellenberger, Jr. of Kingston, whose name, translated, means "bell-ringer-on-the-mountain," points to the bell tower on the Cadet Chapel at the U. S. Doubts Wirths' Story

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—The lawyer for a jailed prowler has cast doubt on his story of being at the home of William E. Woodward Jr. on the night of his shotgun death. The prowler, Paul W. Wirths, originally told police he was not on the estate at Oyster Bay in the early morning hours of Oct. 30 when Woodward, 35, was shot and killed by his striking blonde wife, Ann, 39. On Monday Wirths was said by police to have changed his story and to have admitted he was breaking into the house when Mrs. Woodward fired the gun. His new account, as relayed by police, supported on several points her story that she had shot in fear of an intruder and hit her husband by mistake.

Income for Widow

New York, 9 (AP)—Millionaire-sportsman William Woodward Jr., slain with a shotgun fired by his wife, left her a life income from a third of his estate plus $2,500 cash, the filing of his will showed today. Under New York law, a widow must receive a minimum of a third of her husband's estate. Woodward was worth an unofficially estimated 10 million dollars. The will, filed for probate in Surrogate's Court, did not specify the total. He was killed in the hallway of his home 10 days ago when his wife fired at a sound she said she thought was a prowler.

4 Burn to Death

Jackson, Ohio, Nov. 9 (AP)—A grandmother and her three grandchildren burned to death in their frame home two miles west of here today. Victims of the fire were Mrs. Thomas Elkins, 55, and her grandchildren, Victoria Jean Addis, 7, her brother Timothy Wayne Addis, 4, children of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Addis; and Linda Combs, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Combs. The house caught fire and burned about 7:30 a. m. Authorities who investigated said it had been Mrs. Elkins' habit to get up and build a wood and coal fire, then go back to bed.

Egypt Says U. S.

was giving top-level consideration to asking the UN Security Council to embargo all arms shipments to the Middle East. This was said to be one reason why Washington is reluctant to sell arms quickly to Israel to match Egyptian purchases from Czechoslovakia.

(The embargo plan was said to have been worked out in consultation with Britain and France in Geneva and the three western capitals. The Herald Tribune said the Soviet Union likely would veto the embargo proposal in the Security Council but that such action would "expose Russia to the world as a munitions merchant bent on gambling with the lives and security of millions of people.")

In Geneva, the United States and Britain were reported arranging high level talks within 48 hours to chart their next moves against Russia's diplomatic offensive in the Middle East.

DIPLOMATIC officials in the Swiss city said high priority was being given to a suggestion that either President Eisenhower or British Prime Minister Eden or both appeal directly to Soviet Premier Nickoli Bulganin for Russian cooperation in maintaining peace in the Middle East. U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, both in Geneva for the Big Four Foreign Ministers' meeting, would draft the U. S.-British plan.

The Egyptian statement gave this account of Cairo's arms negotiations:

Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser first asked for U. S. arms in October 1952 but by October 1955, "not a single piece of military equipment" had been received from the United States.

NASSER WARNED U. S. Ambassador Henry Byroade last June Egypt would shop behind the Iron Curtain for armament if certain military needs were not filled by the United States. Washington's reaction was a demand for 27 million dollars in cash for the list of arms—a sum which would have exhausted Egypt's dollar reserves.

Three Bodies Found

Marlin, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP)—Bodies of three men killed in last night's B47B bomber were found today, the first a mile and a half from the major portions of wreckage of the big A-bomb carrier. The first body, face up with the parachute still strapped to his back, was sighted from a plane piloted by Manager Buddy Bostick of Station KWTX-TV, Waco, Tex., who dropped a note to rescue parties and led them to the site. The highway patrol said shortly afterward that the other two bodies also were found a considerable distance from the wreckage. A B47B usually carries a crew of three officers.

Youth Is Shot In Leg While Hunting Tuesday

A 14-year-old boy was shot in the leg with a .22 caliber bullet while hunting with a companion in the High Woods section shortly before noon Tuesday, it was reported this morning by Kingston State Police.

James Carl O'Connor, Jr., of Route 3, Saugerties, was treated for a flesh wound in his left thigh when a rifle in the hand of a companion, Robert John Wolven, 14, of 18 Market street, Saugerties, discharged accidentally, Trooper Edward Shannon said.

Young O'Connor was treated by Dr. B. W. Gifford of Saugerties and released. He was reported in "good" condition.

ACCORDING to Trooper Shannon, the bullet was discharged when young Wolven pleced a shell in the chamber and slammed the bolt forward. The bullet penetrated the muscle of young O'Connor's thigh.

The two boys, each with a .22 caliber rifle, were hunting in the vicinity of the O'Connor home at the time of the mishap.

Education Week Camera Visits Activities at MJM Junior High

900 Pupils Matriculate In Classes

A total of 900 students, comprising all seventh and eighth grade students in the Kingston public school system, matriculate at the Myron J. Michael Junior High School. The total enrollment is divided among 28 class sections.

Stephen Hyatt is principal of MJM, which not only continues the development of basic skills in English, mathematics, reading, social studies, spelling and science, but gives students the opportunity to participate in activities determining and developing their interests.

MUSICAL organizations, student government and clubs devoted to office, library, gym and journalism provide a diverse program.

Since today's high school must meet the many needs of a complex world, the vocational school is an important part of the educational picture. Under the direction of Hubert Hoderath, the vocational school has sent graduates into machine shops, electrical establishments, metal trades, needle trade, automotive shops and many apprentice programs in local industry.

A driver-training program has been instituted in recent years and graduates of this course are now better-equipped to drive on our local streets and area highways.

THE PAST DECADE has seen a tremendous growth in vocational education in Kingston. More than 500 students are receiving vocational training under the instruction of 12 teachers.

For those not entering the trades vocation after graduating from school, a training of practical knowledge enables the student to live more adequately in an industrial society.

MJM BAND (Upper left)—The big brass of the MJM Band hold a special rehearsal in the Band Room at the Vocational Building under the direction of Marlin Morrette.

LIBRARY (Center left) — The MJM library's book shelves give students not only ready reference on subjects they are studying but provide some of the best literature.

ART CLASS (Center right) — Blackboard in the background gives indication of the interesting work done by students in the art class.

7-Inch Snow Hits Erie County Areas

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Parts of Erie county were blanketed under snow today from an Election Day storm that whipped in off Lake Erie.

The storm yesterday brought as much as seven inches to some areas south of the city, but it was expected to melt rapidly. The predicted low for early this morning was 32.

Snow and sleet were also reported in the area east of Lake Ontario. State police said between four and five inches had fallen in the area north of Lowville, Lewis county.

About two inches covered routes 11 and 3 in Oswego county north of Sandy creek. Sleet and slush created a hazard in Jefferson county.

Ribicoff Stresses All State Should Share Flood Cost

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff called today for a one-cent increase in the cigarette tax and a 10 per cent increase in all other state taxes except those on gasoline to meet the cost of state flood relief.

Ribicoff made his recommendations to the state Legislature as it opened a special session to deal with flood relief.

"This cost should be shared by all our people," Ribicoff told the lawmakers.

"For this emergency purpose to exempt any one group would be an insult to them; that they should ask for an exemption would be to their shame."

He said the cost of the state's part in the flood relief program will be $31,373,000.

He estimated the tax increases he recommended will bring in, over the two-year period it will be in force, $30,651,870.

The 10 per cent proposal is called a surtax. If approved by the Legislature, it will increase all state taxes except that on gasoline by one-tenth.

Thus the sales tax, which is now three per cent, would be increased from three cents on the dollar to three and a third cents on the dollar.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

In olden days the horse thieves did not have to make quick get-a-ways according to an incident in the Weekly Freeman and Journal of Thursday, Aug. 29, 1895. It seems a horse thief came from Ellenville on a Monday night with a stolen team and wagon from John B. Mowell, a liveryman of Ellenville. After he left the town a telegraph message was received at the sheriff's office, asking that a lookout be kept for the rig, and the police be notified. When Policeman McIntyre of Kingston was told of the theft, he remembered that he had seen such a rig as described stopping at the Ostrander House on North Front street that Monday night.

Patrolman McnItyre further inquired of Mr. Ostrander, the hotelman who said, that a well-dressed man with a red running geared wagon drawn by a gray and a bay mare had arrived at his hotel at midnight on Monday, and after driving to the lower part of Kingston returned at about 2 a. m. on Tuesday. He had the team put into the stable, and went to bed, sleeping until noon. After dinner he borrowed a top buggy, with a new crossbar that had only been painted with a priming coat, and a set of single harness, saying he was going to Rhinebeck, and would return by evening or Wednesday morning. He had the bay mare hitched before the rig, and left the gray, the double set of harness and the stolen wagon at Ostrander's. Since that time he has been seen in Rhinebeck, but he had evidently traded away the Ostrander wagon, for he had a different one hitched behind the horse.

The stolen horse was a trotter, and well known in Ulster county, being 16 hands high. It had a white star in its forehead and three white feet. The man was about 25 years of age, had a light moustache, and weighed about 150 pounds, being 5 feet 10 inches in height. He had considerable money while at Ostrander's, and was a glib talker, a real horse trader of the gay 1890's.

Horses were much in the news in those days, another item reading in part: "A horse and a two seated carriage belonging to Henry Kelder of Kingston was being driven down the steep Sleightsburg hill from Port Ewen, when the horse becoming dazed from the light at the ferry slip began to back up. The driver commenced to pull on the reins but the horse kept slipping back the bank. But for the presence of mind of several men, who grabbed the vehicle as it was going over the embankment, the occupants might have been seriously hurt, as it was, but little damage was done.

Folks were always trying to be extra healthy and dieting is no new word even back in 1895 in Kingston. One advertisement read: "Dieting won't cure you. Neither will medicine. Bicycling will. All you need is to get outdoors and let the tonic of rapid motion put new blood into your veins and tissues. Buy a Columbia for $100 or a Hartford for $80 and 60. H. H. Pitts, agent for Columbia and Hartford bicycles in Kingston." It seems Pitts also sold guns, rifles, ammunition, sewing machines, Rochester, Miller and banquet lamps. Silverplated ware and oil heating stoves. It was known as Pitts' City Bazaar, at 332 Wall street. They sold wholesale and retail.

900 Pupils Matriculate In Classes

A total of 900 students, comprising all seventh and eighth grade students in the Kingston public school system, matriculate at the Myron J. Michael Junior High School. The total enrollment is divided among 28 class sections.

Stephen Hyatt is principal of MJM, which not only continues the development of basic skills in English, mathematics, reading, social studies, spelling and science, but gives students the opportunity to participate in activities determining and developing their interests.

MUSICAL organizations, student government and clubs devoted to office, library, gym and journalism provide a diverse program.

Since today's high school must meet the many needs of a complex world, the vocational school is an important part of the educational picture. Under the direction of Hubert Hoderath, the vocational school has sent graduates into machine shops, electrical establishments, metal trades, needle trade, automotive shops and many apprentice programs in local industry.

A driver-training program has been instituted in recent years and graduates of this course are now better-equipped to drive on our local streets and area highways.

THE PAST DECADE has seen a tremendous growth in vocational education in Kingston. More than 500 students are receiving vocational training under the instruction of 12 teachers.

For those not entering the trades vocation after graduating from school, a training of practical knowledge enables the student to live more adequately in an industrial society.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

In olden days the horse thieves did not have to make quick get-a-ways according to an incident in the Weekly Freeman and Journal of Thursday, Aug. 29, 1895. It seems a horse thief came from Ellenville on a Monday night with a stolen team and wagon from John B. Mowell, a liveryman of Ellenville. After he left the town a telegraph message was received at the sheriff's office, asking that a lookout be kept for the rig, and the police be notified. When Policeman McIntyre of Kingston was told of the theft, he remembered that he had seen such a rig as described stopping at the Ostrander House on North Front street that Monday night.

Patrolman McIntyre further inquired of Mr. Ostrander, the hotelman who said, that a well-dressed man with a red running geared wagon drawn by a gray and a bay mare had arrived at his hotel at midnight on Monday, and after driving to the lower part of Kingston returned at about 2 a. m. on Tuesday. He had the team put into the stable, and went to bed, sleeping until noon. After dinner he borrowed a top buggy, with a new crossbar that had only been painted with a priming coat, and a set of single harness, saying he was going to Rhinebeck, and would return by evening or Wednesday morning. He had the bay mare hitched before the rig, and left the gray, the double set of harness and the stolen wagon at Ostrander's. Since that time he has been seen in Rhinebeck, but he had evidently traded away the Ostrander wagon, for he had a different one hitched behind the horse.

The stolen horse was a trotter, and well known in Ulster county, being 16 hands high. It had a white star in its forehead and three white feet. The man was about 25 years of age, had a light moustache, and weighed about 150 pounds, being 5 feet 10 inches in height. He had considerable money while at Ostrander's, and was a glib talker, a real horse trader of the gay 1890's.

Horses were much in the news in those days, another item reading in part: "A horse and a two seated carriage belonging to Henry Kelder of Kingston was being driven down the steep Sleightsburg hill from Port Ewen, when the horse becoming dazed from the light at the ferry slip began to back up. The driver commenced to pull on the reins but the horse kept slipping back the bank. But for the presence of mind of several men, who grabbed the vehicle as it was going over the embankment, the occupants might have been seriously hurt, as it was, but little damage was done.

Folks were always trying to be extra healthy and dieting no new word even back in 1895 in Kingston. One advertisement read: "Dieting won't cure you. Neither will medicine. Bicycling will. All you need is to get outdoors and let the tonic of rapid motion put new blood into your veins and tissues. Buy a Columbia for $100 or a Hartford for $80 and 60. H. H. Pitts, agent for Columbia and Hartford bicycles in Kingston." It seems Pitts also sold guns, rifles, ammunition, sewing machines, Rochester, Miller and banquet lamps. Silverplated ware and oil heating stoves. It was known as Pitts' City Bazaar, at 332 Wall street. They sold wholesale and retail.

Gulotta Re-elected

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Nassau County Dist. Atty. Frank Gulotta was re-elected yesterday by a 90,000 vote margin over his combined opponents. The Republican prosecutor has been in the national limelight recently in the investigation of the fatal shooting of millionaire William Woodward Jr. His unofficial vote was 210,181, to 116,050 for Abraham Schlissel, Democrat, and 4,067 for Julius Droisen, Liberal.

7-Inch Snow Hits Erie County Areas

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Parts of Erie county were blanketed under snow today from an Election Day storm that whipped in off Lake Erie.

The storm yesterday brought as much as seven inches to some areas south of the city, but it was expected to melt rapidly. The predicted low for early this morning was 32.

Snow and sleet were also reported in the area east of Lake Ontario. State police said between four and five inches had fallen in the area north of Lowville, Lewis county.

About two inches covered routes 11 and 3 in Oswego county north of Sandy creek. Sleet and slush created a hazard in Jefferson county.

Ribicoff Stresses All State Should Share Flood Cost

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff called today for a one-cent increase in the cigarette tax and a 10 per cent increase in all other state taxes except those on gasoline to meet the cost of state flood relief.

Ribicoff made his recommendations to the state Legislature as it opened a special session to deal with flood relief.

"This cost should be shared by all our people," Ribicoff told the lawmakers.

"For this emergency purpose to exempt any one group would be an insult to them; that they should ask for an exemption would be to their shame."

He said the cost of the state's part in the flood relief program will be $31,373,000.

He estimated the tax increases he recommended will bring in, over the two-year period it will be in force, $30,651,870.

The 10 per cent proposal is called a surtax. If approved by the Legislature, it will increase all state taxes except that on gasoline by one-tenth.

Thus the sales tax, which is now three per cent, would be increased from three cents on the dollar to three and a third cents on the dollar.

GUM CHEWING

The following letter comes from a high-school teacher: "What is your opinion, Mrs. Post, of girls chewing gum in the classroom? Also, most of the girls powder their noses and comb their hair before some of the classes are begun. Is this not very bad form? I would like a reply from you so that I may put it up on the bulletin board for the class to see and perhaps put an end to these bad habits."

I agree with you decidedly. All persons of good taste know that a classroom is not a dressing room! And while on the subject of classroom manners, let me add that courtesy to a teacher is not shown by letting her (or him) sit facing a gum-chewing class.

Simple Buffet

Dear Mrs. Post: How can I serve approximately 40 guests at a wedding reception which I am giving in my house for a young relative. We have no servants and will probably not be able to engage any for this occasion. What also is the typical decoration of the table?

Answer: You should not find it at all necessary to have anyone help you at a simple buffet. Put cakes and sandwiches and punch on the dining table with glasses grouped around the punch bowl, and the guests will very readily help themselves. They would do this even if you had half a dozen caterer's men waiting on them. For typical table decoration—as much white as possible. White flowers, white wedding cake, white ice cakes, white and green, or white and gold china on a white damask tablecloth.

Membership in Bridge Club

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered good manners to solicit membership in bridge clubs, or must one wait for a bid?

Answer: Certainly one waits for a bid.

In writing a letter, the paper you use is as important as the words you use. Mrs. Post describes stationery and includes sample letters in her booklet No. 502, "Etiquette of Writing." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Also, most of the girls powder their noses and comb their hair before some of the classes are begun. Is this not very bad form? I would like a reply from you so that I may put it up on the bulletin board for the class to see and perhaps put an end to these bad habits."

I agree with you decidedly. All persons of good taste know that a classroom is not a dressing room! And while on the subject of classroom manners, let me add that courtesy to a teacher is not shown by letting her (or him) sit facing a gum-chewing class.

Simple Buffet

Dear Mrs. Post: How can I serve approximately 40 guests at a wedding reception which I am giving in my house for a young relative. We have no servants and will probably not be able to engage any for this occasion. What also is the typical decoration of the table?

Answer: You should not find it at all necessary to have anyone help you at a simple buffet. Put cakes and sandwiches and punch on the dining table with glasses grouped around the punch bowl, and the guests will very readily help themselves. They would do this even if you had half a dozen caterer's men waiting on them. For typical table decoration—as much white as possible. White flowers, white wedding cake, white ice cakes, white and green, or white and gold china on a white damask tablecloth.

Membership in Bridge Club

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered good manners to solicit membership in bridge clubs, or must one wait for a bid?

Answer: Certainly one waits for a bid.

In writing a letter, the paper you use is as important as the words you use. Mrs. Post describes stationery and includes sample letters in her booklet No. 502, "Etiquette of Writing." Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Jaycee Olympic Fund Needs Local Support Tonight at Theatre

Donald Droulette, chairman of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce Olympic Fund committee, stressed the importance today of local support in meeting the goal set in order to send America's athletes to the winter Olympic games in Italy and the summer Olympic games in Australia.

Almost one million dollars is needed and the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce is joining with Jaycees all over the United States to spearhead this drive.

To help raise funds for this event, the Kingston Jaycees are sponsoring tonight's "Curtain at 8:40" production at the Community Theatre. The film featured is "Court Martial" which stars David Niven and Margaret Leighton and the proceeds from this evening's showing will go into the U. S. Olympic Fund.

Emphasis of the drive is built around the fund slogan, "Remember, our young men and women must be there in win."

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson of Green Gables, Asbury, Park, N. J., are now visiting F. Leslie Garrison of 154 Fair street. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson formerly operated the Millstream Motel in Woodstock.

Benedictine Auxiliary Hears Talk About Lebanese Government and Life

At the November meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital, Michael P. Guido, formerly of East Kingston, was the guest speaker and presented a very interesting program regarding the Lebanese government and the work being done in that country by the U. S.

Mr. Guido is with the U. S. Department of State Foreign Service under the point four program, now known as the International Cooperation Administration which handles the technical and economic aid and assistance aspects of the United States foreign policy. He showed a film depicting conditions in Lebanon and explained audio-visual work, consisting of mass communications, production and utilization of educational training aids in the fields of public sanitation, health, education and agriculture with the Lebanese government program. He followed this with a film showing the lovely shores and countryside and the many ultra-modern hotels in Lebanon.

Mrs. Allen A. Baker, chairman of the nominating committee and Mrs. Louis R. Netter and Mrs. S. Schonger, co-chairman, presented the slate of officers for the year 1956.

Mrs. John A. Cooke, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, announced that plans are being made for a card party to be held in the Knights of Columbus Hall on November 16 at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. John Olivet is chairman.

Mrs. Louis R. Netter, chairman of membership committee, introduced the following new members: Mmes. Andrew Daley, John Gilligan, Henry Kwasnowski and Richard Van Bramer.

Mrs. Guy Valeo, president, appointed Mrs. William Cranston chairman of the Christmas tea and Mrs. George F. Einterz as co-chairman. The tea is an annual social event and will be held on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 7 at 2:30 p. m., in the nurses' residence. Mrs. Valeo urged all members and their friends to attend.

Following the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. Hostesses were the Mmes. Robert B. Canavan and Isaac Forster. Mrs. Vincent Amatrano poured.

Leaves Husband Behind

Hong Kong, Nov. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Laura Lau, Pennsylvania-born wife of a Chinese Christian minister, arrived from Red China today with her three children. She passed up a previous chance to leave because the Communists then said the children had to stay. The frail 57-year-old Mrs. Lau arrived without her husband, who remained at Canton. She told newsmen on reaching this British crown colony that "those progressive people (the Red Chinese) were determined to separate my family. I am determined by the grace of God to reunite us sometime."

Turkey Prices Higher

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—The turkey for the Thanksgiving dinner is expected to cost from two to six cents more a pound this year than in 1954. An Agriculture Department spokesman attributed the increase to two reasons; a smaller crop and later marketing. However, the housewife's demand is scheduled to be as strong as ever with continuing high incomes in a growing population.

Launch New Search

East Meadow, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP) — Police today launched a new search of this community for the missing son of Air Force Sgt. Jerry Damman. The search was scheduled to start from in front of the supermarket where little Stephen Damman, not quite 3-years-old, disappeared nine days ago. Authorities expected the 24 county policemen assigned to the job to be aided by volunteer off-duty officers.

Two Patrolmen Hurt

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two patrolmen were wounded by a watch fob as they questioned a man in Harlem last night. It turned out that the watch fob—a miniature pistol slightly over an inch long with a one-eighth-inch bore— was loaded. The man from whom the patrolmen took it—identified as Howard Sims, 27-year-old Negro dancer of 119 W. 122nd street — was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon.

Junior League Names New Vice President

At the regular monthly meeting of the Junior League held November 7, Mrs. James Norton was named vice-president and replaces Mrs. Gifford Beal who left her position to fulfill her new duties as director of Region II of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Kuehne.

An interesting report was presented to the members by Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. Norton, who were delegates to the regional conference held November 2, 3, and 4 at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club in Tarrytown, N. Y. The theme of the conference concerned the development of the individual as an informed and participating member, aware of her responsibility to her community, capable of making her own particular contribution and deriving her satisfaction therefrom.

Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Norton pointed out to the group that the success of an organization is attributed to the suitability of the individual member to fulfill her duties as an active member in such a way as would benefit both the member and the group to which she belongs. Only a member who is well suited to her job is capable of producing quality results.

U. S. to Reject Red China Offer On Force Pledge

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Diplomatic officials made it clear today the United States will reject Red China's offer to join in a declaration swearing off the use of force in international disputes.

They regard the offer as loaded with a gimmick that makes it meaningless.

THEY SAID the United States also will strongly protest Red China's leaking of the news of the offer. The Communist maneuver was reported Monday in the London Daily Worker, a Communist paper, even though U. S.-Red Chinese talks at Geneva are supposed to be private and secret.

It was because of this secrecy pledge that American officials in Washington refused to say what the United States will do about the Red Chinese call for a declaration. For that matter, they would not publicly confirm it even had been made.

HOWEVER, is was noted that Secretary of State Dulles, who originated the idea of a joint no-force declaration last summer, stipulated it should specifically cover Formosa, Korea and Indochina.

Therein lies the rub. The Red Chinese offer at Geneva was to swear off force in "international disputes." But Red Chinese propagandists have said over and over that the question of Formosa—which the Nationalists hold and the Communists want—is a domestic affair.

No Hurry

Benton, Ky. (AP) — Marshall County Clerk Toad Brien shrugged when a newly recorded deed for the sale of a farm was pointed out. The sale was dated Aug. 8, 1903. Nothing unusual about that around leisurely-living Benton, he said. It's commonplace for deeds to be recorded 40 to 50 years after the transfer of property.

Junior League Names New Vice President

At the regular monthly meeting of the Junior League held November 7, Mrs. James Norton was named vice-president and replaces Mrs. Gifford Beal who left her position to fulfill her new duties as director of Region II of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Kuehne.

An interesting report was presented to the members by Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. Norton, who were delegates to the regional conference held November 2, 3, and 4 at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club in Tarrytown, N. Y. The theme of the conference concerned the development of the individual as an informed and participating member, aware of her responsibility to her community, capable of making her own particular contribution and deriving her satisfaction therefrom.

Mrs. Matthews and Mrs. Norton pointed out to the group that the success of an organization is attributed to the suitability of the individual member to fulfill her duties as an active member in such a way as would benefit both the member and the group to which she belongs. Only a member who is well suited to her job is capable of producing quality results.

Bus Discipline Of Pupils Topic For Port Ewen

A meeting aimed at the enforcement of stricter discipline on Port Ewen school buses, traveling to and from Kingston High School and Myron J. Michael School was held at the Port Ewen School Monday evening, it was announced today by Robert Graves, principal.

Mr. Graves said parents present at the meeting expressed a unanimous desire to insure safer conditions on school buses and "especially better behavior toward drivers and enforcing strict disciplinary measures to all offenders."

Following the discussion period, school trustees and parents passed five resolutions including better distribution of pupil loads in school buses, formation of a committee to investigate means of assigning students seats in buses. It also resolved that a grievance committee be established to investigate all disciplinary actions.

THE OTHER resolutions were aimed at instilling in all pupils a sense of responsibility in ridng school buses and informing parents and students alike that bus drivers are in complete charge of buses at all times, drivers having the authority to refuse admittance to any known offenders.

Mr. Graves said a system of identification cards will be issued in the near future to all students riding buses to and from MJM and KHS.

Bus Discipline Of Pupils Topic For Port Ewen

A meeting aimed at the enforcement of stricter discipline on Port Ewen school buses, traveling to and from Kingston High School and Myron J. Michael School was held at the Port Ewen School Monday evening, it was announced today by Robert Graves, principal.

Mr. Graves said parents present at the meeting expressed a unanimous desire to insure safer conditions on school buses and "especially better behavior toward drivers and enforcing strict disciplinary measures to all offenders."

Following the discussion period, school trustees and parents passed five resolutions including better distribution of pupil loads in school buses, formation of a committee to investigate means of assigning students seats in buses. It also resolved that a grievance committee be established to investigate all disciplinary actions.

THE OTHER resolutions were aimed at instilling in all pupils a sense of responsibility in ridng school buses and informing parents and students alike that bus drivers are in complete charge of buses at all times, drivers having the authority to refuse admittance to any known offenders.

Mr. Graves said a system of identification cards will be issued in the near future to all students riding buses to and from MJM and KHS.

To Explore GM Fields

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Senate Antitrust subcommittee plans to explore today operations of General Motors Corp. in fields other than automobiles. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said one facet of the giant corporation's activities to be covered would be its "dominant position in the manufacture of locomotives." He commented that many persons were unaware of the full extent of GM's far-flung production. T. K. Quinn, New York businessman and author who is a sharp critic of big corporations, will complete his testimony as the subcommittee begins its second day of the GM study.

Vehicle Bureau Urges Motorists Winterize Cars

Albany, Nov. 7—First snow of the season prompted Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly today to urge "winterizing of both vehicles and operators" for safe driving under the year's most dangerous conditions.

"DON'T STOP after winterizing your car," said Commissioner Kelly. "Every one of our six million drivers needs to be 'winterized' too—reminded of the special hazards to be expected and how to cope with them."

Mr. Kelly said every driver must start now to adjust speeds to road and weather conditions; widen the margin between vehicles on slippery roads; signal intention to turn well in advance of turning; start slow-downs and stops earlier than on dry pavement, and pump brakes — especially power brakes—on slippery surfaces.

AS FOR VEHICLES, Commissioner Kelly recommended a complete check of safety equipment. He pointed out that batteries will be subjected to added strain, windshield wiper blades will be called on for extra duty, equalized brakes are more important, tires will find traction trick on snow or ice, tire chains must be ready for use when needed, and lights will have to function for longer periods than during other seasons.

Area Youngsters Named to Light Court House Tree

Tommie Benson of Ellenville and Judy Ann Strubel of Kingston have been chosen as the little boy and girl to light the first bulb on the living Christmas tree which was planted on the Ulster County Court House lawn as the gift of the Little Gardens Club.

TOMMIE BENSON is the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Benson of Ellenville. Judy Ann Strubel is the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Strubel of 420 Hasbrouck avenue. Judy Ann was suggested for the contest by Mrs. Joseph Kain, policewoman, who guides the crossing of children at School 5. Mrs. Kain heard of the contest and the description of the children given by Bea Patrick of WKNY on the "Bea Patrick Show" and suggested several of the pretty red headed girls attending school.

It was with great difficulty that the judges were able to make a choice of the winners since there were so many beautiful little children entered in the contest.

JUDGES SERVING on the committee were Mrs. Althea Odell, art teacher of Kingston High School; Tom Reynolds, photographer of Saugerties; and Mrs. Dorothy Hocmer, grade school teacher of Ellenville who makes painting a hobby for her leisure time. Each of the children will wear a playsuit which will be presented to them by the Skyline Manufacturing Company, who operate with the Fuller Shirt Company on Pine Grove avenue.

The two youngsters will be given the honor to light the first bulb on the living Christmas tree and sell the first sheets of Christmas Seals to Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., president of the Ulster County TB and Health Association.

The pageant is open to the public and will be held in front of the Court House on Friday, Nov. 11 at 8 p. m.

32 Men Seized In Games Raid

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Police reported they seized 32 men last night and early today in raids on two floating crap games in Manhattan and the Bronx. The games reportedly involved total stakes of $35,000 to $45,000.

Both raids were led by First Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy.

TWO MEN were picked up when the officers entered a basement at 712 11th avenue last night. Kennedy said the game in progress there involved $15,000 and that each player had to have $500 with him in order to enter.

Two hours later, Kennedy and five men from his office raided the basement of a six-story tenement at 278 E. 152nd street, the Bronx, and arrested 10 men.

Kennedy said he believed $20,000 to $30,000 was involved in the Bronx game. Police had to break through three metal doors to reach the game room, and Kennedy said, several players escaped through the rear of the building.

Errors Better Than 3 Aces

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand wasn't easy to defend properly, but the defenders had to make at least three mistakes for South to fulfill his contract. Since the mistakes are quite instructive, it won't hurt to look at the comedy of errors.

West opened the king of diamonds and wondered about a continuation when he saw his partner's discouraging deuce. It's easy to see now that West could have taken the top diamonds and shifted to a spade to make sure of a third fast trick, after which the defenders could sit back and wait for two trump tricks.

West didn't actually see this when the hand was played. He decided to shift, and chose to lead a club instead of the nine of spades. (With a spade lead, of course, East would have to take the ace of spades at once and return a diamond to defeat the contract.)

South took the second trick with the queen of clubs and ran two more top clubs to discard the queen of diamonds. Then he led a low trump from dummy. East played low, and South won with the king. Declarer properly led a low trump next, and East had to win with the ace.

This was the last chance for the defenders to go wrong, and East came through. He led a fourth round of clubs, hoping the ruff would do his partner some good.

This was fatal. South discarded a small spade, and West ruffed with a card that would have been a natural trump trick in any case. Now South lost only one spade trick and could easily draw West's last trump with the queen of hearts. South lost only two trumps, one diamond, and one spade.

At the end, East should have realized that West had trump strength since otherwise South would have led a high trump instead of a low trump to force out the heart ace. If West had returned a diamond, South would have been obliged to lose two spade tricks sooner or later, thus losing the contract.

South took the second trick with the queen of clubs and ran two more top clubs to discard the queen of diamonds. Then he led a low trump from dummy. East played low, and South won with the king. Declarer properly led a low trump next, and East had to win with the ace.

This was the last chance for the defenders to go wrong, and East came through. He led a fourth round of clubs, hoping the ruff would do his partner some good.

This was fatal. South discarded a small spade, and West ruffed with a card that would have been a natural trump trick in any case. Now South lost only one spade trick and could easily draw West's last trump with the queen of hearts. South lost only two trumps, one diamond, and one spade.

At the end, East should have realized that West had trump strength since otherwise South would have led a high trump instead of a low trump to force out the heart ace. If West had returned a diamond, South would have been obliged to lose two spade tricks sooner or later, thus losing the contract.

VETERANS DAY

● This holiday which we observe on November 11th is dedicated to world peace and expands the significance of Armistice Day by including veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Congress has not established a new holiday but simply included a new group of men and women to whom our nation pays homage.

As is our custom we will transact no business on, November 11th, Veterans Day.

Kingston Gridders Face Another Unbeaten Foe Saturday

Clair Bee, a man who should know, doesn't share the widely accepted theory that modern basketball is totally devoid of defense.

The astute NYMA athletic director and former collegiate coaching great at Long Island University explained his theory at the Coach Kias testimonial.

"The incredible development of the art of shooting is what makes the defense look bad and completely overshadows it in today's basketball," he told the audience.

"The art of shooting has been improved so much in the last 20 years as to become almost unstoppable. The one-handed shot, then the jump shot . . . how are you going to stop them?" he asked.

"The kids of today are so much better than their predecessors that the defense just can't cope with them."

Bee also made an impassioned plea to keep the kids of America playing sports. He warned that despite the fabulous economic prosperity and technological and atomic age advancement of our society, we are running the risk of raising generations of softies.

"Walking is almost a lost art among youngsters of today," he warned. "Kids insist on an automobile life if they have to travel more than a block.

"Baseball at collegiate and high school levels is a dying sport," Bee said. "We must keep our youth playing sports, if even we have to literally chase them to the athletic fields. . . ."

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Professional basketball experts can't figure out why the Harlem Globetrotters, due here Nov. 18, ever let Jack Hoxsie of Niagara get away from them. But Abe Saperstein has one of the top new Negro greats in Jesse Arnelle, who was All-All everything at Penn State. . . . Look for Johnny Ferraro and Phil Versace to lock horns in the finals of the national singles elimination tournament Nov. 20 at the Central Recs. . . . Mrs. William Huelser of Hillside Drive, Hurley, was awarded the Putting Cup for the 1955 season at Lake Mohonk Mountain House and is the holder of many blue ribbons and prizes awarded at Lake Mohonk and at the Cloisters at Sea Island, Georgia. . . . Sophomore Garry Mendez (ex-Poughkeepsie High) scored two touchdowns for Hobart Saturday in the 19-0 victory over Hamilton to run the Statesmen streak to 19 straight victories. Mendez has accounted for eight Hobart TDs this season. . . .

• Of Men and Mice:

Ex-Newburgh Academy greats developed by George "Lanky" Masterson made the grade quickly at higher institutions of learning. Mickey Burkoski and Jack Schoenberger are with the Manhattan College frosh. . . . Ditto Harold Kaplan with the Columbia U. Frosh. . . . Red Hook High completed an undefeated football season by routing Mahopac, 39-7. . . . George Steutzle will import Jack Molinas, former Columbia University star who was suspended while a member of the Milwaukee Hawks of the NBA, for some key Pine Plains Bombardier games in the Poughkeepsie City League. Ski note: Jacques Brunel has constructed a ski slope of plastic on Mt. Beacon and plans to form a private club. Mary Ann Sarazen, daughter of Germantown's most famous citizen, the golf immortal Gene Sarazen, has been elected vice-president of her freshman residence house at Russell Sage College.

Diners at the Coach Kias testimonial applauded the brilliant pencil sketch artist Joe Brophy had painted of Coach Kias. It occupied a prominent spot behind the speaker's platform and drew lavish praise. Joe did a terrific job as he had done earlier on a Joe Kelly sketch for the police testimonial to the Freeman city editor.

Locals Play Poughkeepsie At Bridge City

Highland Duels CFMA Grid Team

For the third week in succession, Kingston High School takes on an unbeaten football opponent. This week the Maroons are on Poughkepsie High School's bill of fare. The game is scheduled at Riverview Field in the Bridge City.

This is a key game for both squads. For Kingston, a victory would almost insure a share of the DUSO League crown. For the Poughkeepsie eleven, the game has threefold importance:

First, the DUSO pennant.
Second, an unbeaten season.
Third, a chance to avenge Kingston's 54-0 rout of the PHS 1954 team.

THREE OTHER grid games are on the weekend card. Middletown is at Newburgh in the DUSO's "battle of the bums" on Saturday. Highland journeys to Cardinal Farley Military Academy's Rhinecliff field at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. On Friday night, Port Jervis is host to Pearl River.

Poughkeepsie is a solid favorite to defeat Kingston. The Blues-turned-Pioneers can't compare with the unbeaten PHS crew of two seasons past. But Kingston's present team isn't as good as the '53 edition which gave Poughkeepsie a rough battle for the first half.

The record book makes the Bridge City boys an even bigger favorite. At no time in the past has Kingston come up with a notable upset over Poughkeepsie. However, one never knows which way a football is going to bounce There's always a first time.

As the comparative records in an adjoining column indicate, Sam Kalloch's team is an offensive powerhouse. The PHS defense has its weak spots. Neither Kingston's offense or defense has been consistently good.

The Blues attack from both T and short punt formation.

THE BIG COG in the attack is halfback Charley Johnson. On a football field, Johnson does everything well. He runs, passes, receives and kicks on offense and plays a whale of a defensive game. He's the old-fashioned triple threat.

Johnson has been around the DUSO ranks for four seasons. He made the All-DUSO team in his freshman and sophomore years but was sidelined last fall with a leg injury. With Saturday being his last game, the chances are that Kalloch will turn the superstar loose for every bit of yardage he can pick up.

Johnson, however, isn't the only backfield threat the Maroons have to contend with. Quarterback George Phillips is also a gifted runner, passer and receiver. Fullback Ernie Stoetzner is a slow but bruising linebucker and also the best blocking back in the DUSO League. Stoetzner makes a block stick.

The big boy up front for Poughkeepsie is Monty Stickles, the six-four, 210-pound end. Stickles is the leading pass-catcher of an aerial-minded team. He's also used as a ball carrier on end-around plays, which Poughkeepsie frequently utilizes. On defense, Stickles is as mean as they come.

THESE FOUR players—Johnson, Phillips, Stoetzner and Stickles—are the chief Poughkeepsie threats. The remainder of the squad must be rated as only average.

Poughkeepsie's line hasn't distinguished itself to date. It was shoved around by Newburgh and had a rough time in the second half against Middletown.

The Blue forwards, to many observers, have appeared a trifle slow of foot. The tackles appear to be the weakest spots. The guards and center, though small, are fairly tough and quick.

Poughkeepsie has depth to some extent in most positions. Kalloch hasn't used the same starting lineup in any two games.

Kingston's scoring hopes rest chiefly with the two breakaway halfbacks, Ronnie Ashdown, and Jim "Junior" Jackson. Both are tough to catch once they're in an opponent's secondary.

Larry Johnson can be counted on for a steady chore at fullback. Johnson has shaken loose for only one long gain all year, but he's made a host of short ones. He's rarely thrown for a loss.

Kingston has shown little in the way of a passing attack to date. But the locals were always primarily a running team.

THE KHS DEFENSE is expected to have its hands full for the entire game. With Johnson, Stoetzner and Phillips running the ball, the Maroons will have three tough customers. But the passing—Johnson and Phillips throwing, Stickles, Johnson and Phillips receiving—will probably give the locals a greater amount of trouble. Kingston's defense against passing attacks hasn't been impressive. However, the Maroons have proved that they can contain a ground attack.

All things considered, it appears that Kingston is in for a another tough afternoon.

Highland is closing out another successful campaign under Frank Hamblet's guidance. The Blue and Gold is favored to trim the CFMA Cadets.

The Highlanders have both a good offense and defense. The Cadets play solid football only when they don't have possession of the ball.

Mariles Rides Again

Mexican Jumpers Win International Event

Double Refusal Beats U. S. Team

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—If the U. S. Olympic equestrian team doesn't get busy, one of the best jumping horses in the world is going to represent Canada in the Olympics next year.

The mount's name is Copacabana, and he is owned by Bernie Mann, of Port Washington, N. Y., a fellow who bears listening to. His Riviera Wonder captured the coveted open jumping championship at the National Horse Show which concluded an eight-day run in Madison Square Garden last night.

The U. S. team could have used Copa in the international jumping competition. Mexico won the final of the 13 tests last night in a jump-off with Ireland, and with it won the over all team trophy.

IN THE FINAL standings, Mexico won six tests, the United States 5, Ireland 1 and Canada 1.

In the first go-round of the final test, Mexico and Ireland each had 12 faults. The U. S. team had 12½ — when Charles Dennehy, aboard Pill Box, had two refusals after clean rides by Billy Steinkraus, handling Saxon Woods, and Hugh Wiley, riding Altmeister.

Gen. Humberto Mariles and his Mexicans then won the jump-off with 12 faults to Ireland's 16.

But getting back to Copa. "He already has beaten the best in Europe in London's White City Stadium," said Mann today, "and I know he will win in the Olympics.

"The only trouble is no one from the American team has asked me for him. Bob Ballard of Canada wants him and I told Bob if Copa didn't go for the Americans I'd lend him to Canada."

Mann discounted the notion there was a shortage of good horses in this country available for the Olympics.

"WHY, WE HAVE some of the best horses in the world," he said.

Well, what about the trouble the equestrian team has been having borrowing horses? Don't the owners want to lend them out?

"Certainly, we are willing to lend our team the horses," snorted Mann. "But we do disapprove of the training methods used by our team.

"At the last Olympics, Miss Budweiser, a full sister to My Riviera Wonder, came back lame and Norman Coates, who lent them Matador and Paleface, the two horses who did well for us, never even got a thank you note from the team directors."

Riviera Wonder is too young, said Mann.

"He's only 4 years old and he's not fully developed. His legs are still weak and I wouldn't want to take the chance of anything happening to him. He may be ready for the 1960 games."

Jones-Saxton Bout Tonight

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 9 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, an old favorite for armchair boxing fans, meets Johnny Saxton in a scheduled 10-round bout tonight at the Oakland Auditorium.

Although the fight is not being billed as a rematch, it'll be the second meeting between the two. If it's as close as the first one, television viewers (ABC-TV) are in for a pretty fair evening.

SAXTON, who since then has won and lost the welterweight championship, got the decision in the initial meeting on a verdict as close as you could make it—one point. The 10-rounder was fought at St. Nicholas Arena in New York, with one judge calling it each way in rounds and the referee scoring a draw but giving Saxton six points to Jones' five.

That was back in 1952, when both fighters weighed in the vicinity of 150 pounds. Saxton still scales in the welterweight bracket, but Jones currently is the sixth-rated middleweight in the nation. They go in overweight tonight.

Jockey Prefers to Watch

Wheeling, W. Va. (AP)—Jockey Willie Curtin, one of the leading riders at Wheeling Downs this year, says he has no thoughts of returning to steeplechase racing where he got his start in the saddle. Curtin said he's going to be a railbird at steeplechase events. "Those steeplechase races are exciting to watch," claims Curtin. "But they'll never get me to ride them again. "I had lots of spills and broken bones."

Double Refusal Beats U. S. Team

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—If the U. S. Olympic equestrian team doesn't get busy, one of the best jumping horses in the world is going to represent Canada in the Olympics next year.

The mount's name is Copacabana, and he is owned by Bernie Mann, of Port Washington, N. Y., a fellow who bears listening to. His Riviera Wonder captured the coveted open jumping championship at the National Horse Show which concluded an eight-day run in Madison Square Garden last night.

The U. S. team could have used Copa in the international jumping competition. Mexico won the final of the 13 tests last night in a jump-off with Ireland, and with it won the over all team trophy.

IN THE FINAL standings, Mexico won six tests, the United States 5, Ireland 1 and Canada 1.

In the first go-round of the final test, Mexico and Ireland each had 12 faults. The U. S. team had 12½ — when Charles Dennehy, aboard Pill Box, had two refusals after clean rides by Billy Steinkraus, handling Saxon Woods, and Hugh Wiley, riding Altmeister.

Gen. Humberto Mariles and his Mexicans then won the jump-off with 12 faults to Ireland's 16.

But getting back to Copa. "He already has beaten the best in Europe in London's White City Stadium," said Mann today, "and I know he will win in the Olympics.

"The only trouble is no one from the American team has asked me for him. Bob Ballard of Canada wants him and I told Bob if Copa didn't go for the Americans I'd lend him to Canada."

Mann discounted the notion there was a shortage of good horses in this country available for the Olympics.

"WHY, WE HAVE some of the best horses in the world," he said.

Well, what about the trouble the equestrian team has been having borrowing horses? Don't the owners want to lend them out?

"Certainly, we are willing to lend our team the horses," snorted Mann. "But we do disapprove of the training methods used by our team.

"At the last Olympics, Miss Budweiser, a full sister to My Riviera Wonder, came back lame and Norman Coates, who lent them Matador and Paleface, the two horses who did well for us, never even got a thank you note from the team directors."

Riviera Wonder is too young, said Mann.

"He's only 4 years old and he's not fully developed. His legs are still weak and I wouldn't want to take the chance of anything happening to him. He may be ready for the 1960 games."

Jones-Saxton Bout Tonight

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 9 (AP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, an old favorite for armchair boxing fans, meets Johnny Saxton in a scheduled 10-round bout tonight at the Oakland Auditorium.

Although the fight is not being billed as a rematch, it'll be the second meeting between the two. If it's as close as the first one, television viewers (ABC-TV) are in for a pretty fair evening.

SAXTON, who since then has won and lost the welterweight championship, got the decision in the initial meeting on a verdict as close as you could make it—one point. The 10-rounder was fought at St. Nicholas Arena in New York, with one judge calling it each way in rounds and the referee scoring a draw but giving Saxton six points to Jones' five.

That was back in 1952, when both fighters weighed in the vicinity of 150 pounds. Saxton still scales in the welterweight bracket, but Jones currently is the sixth-rated middleweight in the nation. They go in overweight tonight.

Jockey Prefers to Watch

Wheeling, W. Va. (AP)—Jockey Willie Curtin, one of the leading riders at Wheeling Downs this year, says he has no thoughts of returning to steeplechase racing where he got his start in the saddle. Curtin said he's going to be a railbird at steeplechase events. "Those steeplechase races are exciting to watch," claims Curtin. "But they'll never get me to ride them again. "I had lots of spills and broken bones."

Maroon Jayvees Rap Tannersville for Perfect Season Mark

Kingstonians Capture Fifth Grid Win, 12-0

Manello, Cragan Lead Local Victory

Kingston High School's junior varsity football team climaxed an unbeaten and untied season yesterday, journeying to Tannersville and defeating that school's varsity squad 12-0.

It was the fifth straight triumph for Bill Hurley's team. The local gridders this year mowed down Arlington, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Tannersville in order.

The Maroon juniors scored 12 touchdowns this season. Only three were scored against them.

The Kingston record:

Opponent	KHS	Opp.
Arlington	19	0
Newburgh	21	0
Poughkeepsie	14	13
Middletown	14	6
Tannersville Varsity	12	0
Totals	80	19

Kingston marched for touchdowns on drives of 70 and 60 yards in the first and second periods. Two other TDs were nullified by penalties.

Bob "Nippy" Manello — borrowed from the varsity for a day —and Willie Cragan did the pointmaking and made most of the yardage.

MANELLO circled end for 15 yards and a first-period touchdown. Cragan was stopped on a run for the point.

Cragan's eight-yard burst off right tackle ended a second-period drive. He was halted on the point try.

A clipping penalty called back Cragan's 30-yard touchdown scamper in the second period.

JOE WHITE went 25 yards on a reverse in the third quarter for an apparent touchdown. But again clipping was charged to the locals.

Tannersville never penetrated deeper than the Kingston 35. The Kingston defense, led by tackle Frank Janeczek, contained the home team's attack from start to finish.

The lineups:

Pos. Kingston	Tannersville
LE—Chase	Soul
LT—Vendetti	Rubunge
LG—Wood	Bunt

RG—Shriner	Pierce
RT—Janeczek	Chemato
RE—Council	Mead
QB—White	Sandeunna
LH—Manello	Goodrich

The score by quarters:

Red Sox-Washington Trade Hints One Year Bid for Flag

Boston, Nov. 9 (AP)—An all-out bid for the 1956 American League pennant was signalled by the Boston Red Sox today as a four-year youth movement ended with acquisition of veterans Bob Porterfield and Mickey Vernon.

Red Sox officials were in a happy — and optimistic — mood yesterday after obtaining Porterfield. Vernon and two others for five young players in a big trade with the Washington Senators.

"We didn't miss the 1955 flag by much and I think Porterfield and Vernon could provide us what we need to win the '56 race," said Boston general manager Joe Cronin.

IN ADDITION to Porterfield, a 31-year-old righthanded hurler, and Vernon, a top first baseman despite his 37 years, the Red Sox also received southpaw Johnny Schmitz, a 35-year-old veteran, and outfielder Tommy Umphlett, traded to Washington two years ago after a fine rookie season with Boston.

The Red Sox gave up three pitchers and two outfielders, all out of the Boston farm system. They are righthanders Dick Brodowski, 23, Al Curtis, 25, and Truman Clevenger, 23, and outfielders Karl Olson, 25, and Neil Chrisley, 22.

The Red Sox obviously were prompted in making a bid for the 1956 pennant by the strong showing of this year's team, which after a slow start wound up fourth, 12 games behind the first place New York Yankees.

"ONE MORE experienced pitcher of talent and an additional sound hitter and we might have won it," Cronin said.

Manager Mike Higgins, at his home in Dallas, Texas, said he was "very pleased" by the trade.

Cronin admitted that the trade ended, at least temporarily, a Boston youth movement begun in 1952 after several years of frustration with experienced "name" players in the lineup.

Cronin noted the Red Sox have several promising players reporting to spring training camp but said "until further notice, we'll concentrate more on winning ball games than on developing new talent."

HOUSTON, TEX.—Joe Brown, 135, New Orleans, stopped Ray Riojas, 134, Fort Worth, 8.

Yale's Tarasovic Lineman of Week

(By The Associated Press)

Phil Tarasovic, Yale's football captain and left tackle said last week "we'd rather beat Army than win the Ivy League championship." The Elis, of course, did upset the Cadets, 14-12, and it was Tarasovic's great line play that helped get the job done.

Off that performance, Tarasovic today was named the Associated Press lineman of the week.

The Yale line gave Army no end of trouble last Saturday in the Yale Bowl, chopping down Army backs with such force that the Cadets fumbled five times. Twice it was Tarasovic, a 21-year-old senior from Bridgeport, Conn., who flopped on the loose ball.

In the second quarter, the 6-4, 215-pound tackle smothered a fumble by Army's Pat Uebel on the Cadet's 10. Two plays later, Yale scored and took a 7-6 lead.

In the third period, as Army started a march, Uebel again fumbled and again Tarasovic recovered, this time on the Army 38.

Tarasovic, who says he "might consider professional football," is the only two-year letterman on the Yale squad. He was an alternate tackle as a sophomore and last year took over as a full-time regular.

Tarasovic said after the game, "I don't know who was happier, my father (who was in the stands) or I. Not because he's my father, but because he's the greatest football fan I know. All week long, he kept telling me that we'd beat Army."

Local Conservation Leaders Hail Defeat of Panther Dam Amendment

Ulster county sportsmen and conservationists rejoiced today in the overwhelming defeat of the controversial Panther Dam amendment (No. 7) in yesterday's statewide elections.

Returns from 75 of 91 county districts showed the measure had been defeated in Ulster county by a resounding margin of 11,790 to 2,859.

In the city of Kingston the vote against the project was equally impressive with a final tally of 1946 to 913.

The margin of defeat in Ulster county is expected to run higher than in any other county in the state, reflecting the intensive campaign waged by the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs.

It further reflected the intensive statewide publicity campaign by fish and game clubs and conservation groups who had branded Amendment No. 7 a "power grab" by the power trusts and a violation of the traditional integrity of the forest preserve.

S. JAMES MATTHEWS, Ulster county representative on the New York State Council of Conservationists and member of the council's board of directors, hailed the defeat of the measure.

"My only observation," Matthews said, "was that this definitely established the sportsmen as a group that cannot be overlooked by political organizations."

Matthews noted that the proposed Seventh Amendment was the one most soundly defeated.

"We've beaten the private power groups every time," he concluded, lauding local sportsmen for their work in fighting the proposal.

Carlton B. King, president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county, was unavailable for comment.

WILLIAM GOODMAN, district game protector, said he was "very happy, personally." He said the official Conservation Department reaction would be forthcoming in a few days.

Goodman praised the campaign waged by the Federation clubs and singled out Matthews as one individual who had put a lot of time and effort in arousing public sentiment against the Panther Dam project. He also had high praise for all the officers of the Federation and presidents and officials of the member clubs throughout the county.

Master Fingo was second and Adois Dotty third.

Maroon Jayvees Rap Tannersville for Perfect Season Mark

Kingstonians Capture Fifth Grid Win, 12-0

Manello, Cragan Lead Local Victory

Kingston High School's junior varsity football team climaxed an unbeaten and untied season yesterday, journeying to Tannersville and defeating that school's varsity squad 12-0.

It was the fifth straight triumph for Bill Hurley's team. The local gridders this year mowed down Arlington, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Middletown and Tannersville in order.

Red Sox-Washington Trade Hints One Year Bid for Flag

Boston, Nov. 9 (AP)—An all-out bid for the 1956 American League pennant was signalled by the Boston Red Sox today as a four-year youth movement ended with acquisition of veterans Bob Porterfield and Mickey Vernon.

Red Sox officials were in a happy — and optimistic — mood yesterday after obtaining Porterfield, Vernon and two others for five young players in a big trade with the Washington Senators.

"We didn't miss the 1955 flag by much and I think Porterfield and Vernon could provide us what we need to win the '56 race," said Boston general manager Joe Cronin.

IN ADDITION to Porterfield, a 31-year-old righthanded hurler, and Vernon, a top first baseman despite his 37 years, the Red Sox also received southpaw Johnny Schmitz, a 35-year-old veteran, and outfielder Tommy Umphlett, traded to Washington two years ago after a fine rookie season with Boston.

The Red Sox gave up three pitchers and two outfielders, all out of the Boston farm system. They are righthanders Dick Brodowski, 23, Al Curtis, 25, and Truman Clevenger, 23, and outfielders Karl Olson, 25, and Neil Chrisley, 22.

The Red Sox obviously were prompted in making a bid for the 1956 pennant by the strong showing of this year's team, which after a slow start wound up fourth, 12 games behind the first place New York Yankees.

Yale's Tarasovic Lineman of Week

(By The Associated Press)

Phil Tarasovic, Yale's football captain and left tackle said last week "we'd rather beat Army than win the Ivy League championship." The Elis, of course, did upset the Cadets, 14-12, and it was Tarasovic's great line play that helped get the job done.

Off that performance, Tarasovic today was named the Associated Press lineman of the week.

The Yale line gave Army no end of trouble last Saturday in the Yale Bowl, chopping down Army backs with such force that the Cadets fumbled five times. Twice it was Tarasovic, a 21-year-old senior from Bridgeport, Conn., who flopped on the loose ball.

In the second quarter, the 6-4, 215-pound tackle smothered a fumble by Army's Pat Uebel on the Cadet's 10. Two plays later, Yale scored and took a 7-6 lead.

In the third period, as Army started a march, Uebel again fumbled and again Tarasovic recovered, this time on the Army 38.

Tarasovic, who says he "might consider professional football," is the only two-year letterman on the Yale squad. He was an alternate tackle as a sophomore and last year took over as a full-time regular.

Tarasovic said after the game, "I don't know who was happier, my father (who was in the stands) or I. Not because he's my father, but because he's the greatest football fan I know. All week long, he kept telling me that we'd beat Army."

Local Conservation Leaders Hail Defeat of Panther Dam Amendment

Ulster county sportsmen and conservationists rejoiced today in the overwhelming defeat of the controversial Panther Dam amendment (No. 7) in yesterday's statewide elections.

Returns from 75 of 91 county districts showed the measure had been defeated in Ulster county by a resounding margin of 11,790 to 2,859.

In the city of Kingston the vote against the project was equally impressive with a final tally of 1946 to 913.

The margin of defeat in Ulster county is expected to run higher than in any other county in the state, reflecting the intensive campaign waged by the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs.

It further reflected the intensive statewide publicity campaign by fish and game clubs and conservation groups who had branded Amendment No. 7 a "power grab" by the power trusts and a violation of the traditional integrity of the forest preserve.

S. JAMES MATTHEWS, Ulster county representative on the New York State Council of Conservationists and member of the council's board of directors, hailed the defeat of the measure.

"My only observation," Matthews said, "was that this definitely established the sportsmen as a group that cannot be overlooked by political organizations."

Matthews noted that the proposed Seventh Amendment was the one most soundly defeated.

"We've beaten the private power groups every time," he concluded, lauding local sportsmen for their work in fighting the proposal.

Carlton B. King, president of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county, was unavailable for comment.

WILLIAM GOODMAN, district game protector, said he was "very happy, personally." He said the official Conservation Department reaction would be forthcoming in a few days.

Goodman praised the campaign waged by the Federation clubs and singled out Matthews as one individual who had put a lot of time and effort in arousing public sentiment against the Panther Dam project. He also had high praise for all the officers of the Federation and presidents and officials of the member clubs throughout the county.

A few simple facts on WHISKEY TAXES

Facts that prove FLEISCHMANN'S gives you more for your money!

Whiskey taxes are determined by "Proof." "Proof" tells you a whiskey's "strength"—its alcoholic volume. The higher the Proof, the higher the taxes. Fleischmann's—at a full 90 Proof—pays the U. S. Government $1.03 more per case than 86 Proof brands. Yet Fleischmann's costs you less than many brands of lower Proof!

This is because Fleischmann believes in giving you the most flavor and enjoyment for your money. With most blends today no more than 86 Proof, it's easy to see why Fleischmann's, with its high 90 Proof, is the best blended whiskey value you can buy. Try it yourself—today!

BACK OF THE WEEK — Frank Riepl, sophomore halfback of the University of Pennsylvania's eleven, was named Nov. 8 Back of the Week for his play against Notre Dame Nov. 5. Riepl returned game's opening kickoff 108 yards, threw a 12-yard touchdown pass and kicked two extra points to match the Irish team, 14-14, at half time. Notre Dame won, 46-14. (AP Wirephoto)

Penn's Reipel Back of Week On 108-Yard Run

Philadelphia, Nov. 9 (AP)—"I was clear on our 35 and had only 65 yards to go. But they were the longest 65 yards ever measured. And I know a football field is at least a mile long."

Young Frank Riepl was talking about his fabulous 108-yard runback of the opening kickoff Saturday for Penn against Notre Dame. Riepl, a sophomore back on a winless team, has been honored as The Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance in a 46-14 losing cause.

How can you select a player as back of the week whose team loses by 32 points, Riepl, a 93.5 student when he graduated from South River, N. J. High School, wanted to know.

"Why me?" asked Riepl. "After all, we lost."

POWERFUL Notre Dame, one of the top 10 of the nation, visited Franklin Field a 'name the score' favorite. Yet Riepl ran 108 yards for one touchdown, kicked two extra points and passed for another score. Penn led twice and with six minutes gone in the third period had the fighting Irish stalemated 14-14.

Riepl is Back of the Week because he performed like a champion against overwhelming odds. This 168 pound halfback, inspired his team to performance beyond their capabilities. The final score can't erase that accomplishment. It's easy to star for a winner, not so for a loser.

Riepl said his 108-yard kickoff return was a planned play.

"I started up the field to my left, following the blocks. I kept thinking to myself, 'look at those guys go down.'"

Football Briefs

Hamilton, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Coach Hal Lahar put the Colgate football team through a brisk scrimmage yesterday despite a number of injuries to key players.

"There just is no other way to get ready for a tough opponent like Syracuse," he said.

The Red Raiders shored up defenses against a winged-T attack and unbalanced line similar to that of Syracuse. Lahar said two more contact scrimmages would be held before the game Saturday.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. Harriman will attend the traditional Syracuse - Colgate football game here Saturday.

It was announced yesterday also that a pre-game tribute would be paid to Bill Reid, Colgate athletic director, who died last week.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder concentrated on patching holes caused by injuries in the Orange's one-point loss to Penn State last Saturday. He said his main problem was getting the players out of the doldrums.

Football Briefs

Hamilton, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Coach Hal Lahar put the Colgate football team through a brisk scrimmage yesterday despite a number of injuries to key players.

"There just is no other way to get ready for a tough opponent like Syracuse," he said.

The Red Raiders shored up defenses against a winged-T attack and unbalanced line similar to that of Syracuse. Lahar said two more contact scrimmages would be held before the game Saturday.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. Harriman will attend the traditional Syracuse - Colgate football game here Saturday.

It was announced yesterday also that a pre-game tribute would be paid to Bill Reid, Colgate athletic director, who died last week.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder concentrated on patching holes caused by injuries in the Orange's one-point loss to Penn State last Saturday. He said his main problem was getting the players out of the doldrums.

FBI Is Probing Sabotage Angle Of UAL Tragedy

Denver, Nov. 9 (AP)—The FBI is believed to have started a systematic check into the lives of each of the 44 victims of a United Airlines crash at Longmont, Colo.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation for full-fledged assistance yesterday in probing whether sabotage was to blame for the Nov. 1 disaster.

Webb W. Burke, head of the Denver FBI office, would not elaborate on the investigation methods his agents would employ. However, it is customary in similar cases where sabotage is suspected to make a minute check into the backgrounds of each of the victims.

MEANWHILE, a postal inspector released a report which supported a government investigator's disclosure that a "bomb-type explosion" appeared to have caused the crash.

And UAL President William A. Patterson, issued a statement here yesterday emphasizing that the explosion "was completely foreign to the aircraft or to airline operations."

R. B. Dunbar, Denver postal inspector, reported some of the mail carried by the plane was fragmented and torn "as though by some violent force."

LA Fire Moving Toward County Line

Tujunga, Calif., Nov. 9 (AP)—A fire that has charred an estimated 10,000 acres of brush and timber in Ventura county north of here is "out of control on a three-mile front moving toward Los Angeles county," an official reported today.

At least 250 Los Angeles county fire fighters were at the northwestern edge of the county as the blaze, burning into its third day, crackled to within less than a mile of the county line.

Meanwhile another fire — in the populous La Tuna Canyon district of Tujunga, a hilly suburb north of Los Angeles—has been reduced to a flickering glow on all but one front. Three homes were destroyed yesterday by this blaze, now in its fourth day. It has blackened 3,000 acres in the Verdugo mountains.

Dead Marine Identified

Pearl Harbor, Nov. 9 (AP)—The navy last night identified Marine Pfc. Joseph E. Vargo of Keasbey, N. J., as the man killed Sunday when a fellow guard at Barbers Point Naval Air Station fired a .45 caliber bullet into his chest. Vargo, 20, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vargo, 11 Dahl street, Keasbey. A spokesman said a marine board of investigation had found the shooting accidental.

Pegler's Wife Dies

Rome, Nov. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Westbrook Pegler, 61, wife of the American columnist, died here early today after a heart attack. Mrs. Pegler came to Rome with her husband several days ago. He had planned to leave today for a visit to Moscow. Pegler said his wife had been ill for some time and had suffered another heart attack recently while they were in Germany.

To Check Furnace

Oneonta, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—An inspection of the furnace in a house in which a young couple died of coal gas was scheduled for today. Dist. Atty. Richard J. Bookhout of Otsego county last night ordered the Oneonta fire chief and a heating expert to thoroughly examine the house in which Dr. Walter S. Packer, 34, and his wife, Mary Louise, 31, died Sunday night. Packer, a veterinarian, was head of a p[illegible] research laboratory operated here by the State Veterinary College.

FULL-BLOWN—This is "Eugene," featured in the Tempo Playhouse production of "Amedee" in New York City. The play is about a couple and their son, Eugene, who at 15 years is 17 feet tall and too big for their house. An expanding puppet, Eugene grows during the play's three acts. Pumping him up is actor Tom Holland of Oakland, Calif., who created Eugene. On the ladder is pretty Irene Ryan of Grand Rapids, Mich., star of the play.

Jury Undecided To Try Men for Till Kidnaping

Greenwood, Miss., Nov. 9 (AP)—The Leflore county grand jury pondered today whether two white men will stand trial on charges of kidnaping Emmett Till, 14-year-old Negro boy, who disappeared while vacationing in Mississippi.

But the decision may not come until tomorrow, Dist. Atty. Stanny Saunders said.

THE GRAND JURY called Mose Wright, Till's 64-year-old uncle, and 18-year-old Willie Reed to testify yesterday.

The two Negroes form the core of the state's case against 36-year-old J. W. Milam and his half-brother, Roy Bryant, 24.

Sheriff George Smith and Deputy John Ed Cothran also testified.

A trial jury in nearby Sumner six weeks ago found Milan and Bryant innocent of murdering Till.

WRIGHT, the first witness in the Till case called by the grand jury, testified in the murder trial that two white men jerked Till out of bed in the early hours of Aug. 28 and took him away because he allegedly made obscene remarks and whistled at Mrs. Bryant.

Sheriff Smith and his deputy told the murder trial jury that Bryant and Milan admitted taking Till from Wright's farm shack but said they freed him unharmed when they found he was the wrong Negro.

Why We Say--

When an actor departs from the playwright's lines, or a comedian adds a new joke to his prepared script, he is "ad-libbing." "Ad-lib" is an abbreviation of the Latin words "ad libitum" (at pleasure). The abbreviation was long used in music whenever the composer intended that the performing musician could substitute his own notes in certain places. From music, the term spread to the stage, and, ultimately, to radio and television.

For a Quart of Milk

North Carolina State College experts say the average worker in that state had to work 21 minutes for a quart of milk in 1939 but only 12 minutes in 1954.

Strobel Quits Post

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Peter A. Strobel, commissioner of public buildings, resigned today. A House committee had raised questions as to the propriety of his holding the government post while continuing to have an interest in a New York firm of consulting engineers. The resignation was announced by the General Services Administration—agency under which the commissioner works. GSA made public Strobel's letter of resignation and a letter of acceptance by Edmund F. Mansure, GSA administrator. The resignation became effective at the close of business yesterday.

FULL-BLOWN—This is "Eugene," featured in the Tempo Playhouse production of "Amedee" in New York City. The play is about a couple and their son, Eugene, who at 15 years is 17 feet tall and too big for their house. An expanding puppet, Eugene grows during the play's three acts. Pumping him up is actor Tom Holland of Oakland, Calif., who created Eugene. On the ladder is pretty Irene Ryan of Grand Rapids, Mich., star of the play.

Jury Undecided To Try Men for Till Kidnaping

Greenwood, Miss., Nov. 9 (AP)—The Leflore county grand jury pondered today whether two white men will stand trial on charges of kidnaping Emmett Till, 14-year-old Negro boy, who disappeared while vacationing in Mississippi.

But the decision may not come until tomorrow, Dist. Atty. Stanny Saunders said.

THE GRAND JURY called Mose Wright, Till's 64-year-old uncle, and 18-year-old Willie Reed to testify yesterday.

The two Negroes form the core of the state's case against 36-year-old J. W. Milam and his half-brother, Roy Bryant, 24.

Sheriff George Smith and Deputy John Ed Cothran also testified.

A trial jury in nearby Sumner six weeks ago found Milan and Bryant innocent of murdering Till.

WRIGHT, the first witness is the Till case called by the grand jury, testified in the murder trial that two white men jerked Till out of bed in the early hours of Aug. 28 and took him away because he allegedly made obscene remarks and whistled at Mrs. Bryant.

Sheriff Smith and his deputy told the murder trial jury that Bryant and Milan admitted taking Till from Wright's farm shack but said they freed him unharmed when they found he was the wrong Negro.

Why We Say--

When an actor departs from the playwright's lines, or a comedian adds a new joke to his prepared script, he is "ad-libbing." "Ad-lib" is an abbreviation of the Latin words "ad libitum" (at pleasure). The abbreviation was long used in music whenever the composer intended that the performing musician could substitute his own notes in certain places. From music, the term spread to the stage, and, ultimately, to radio and television.

For a Quart of Milk

North Carolina State College experts say the average worker in that state had to work 21 minutes for a quart of milk in 1939 but only 12 minutes in 1954.

Strobel Quits Post

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—Peter A. Strobel, commissioner of public buildings, resigned today. A House committee had raised questions as to the propriety of his holding the government post while continuing to have an interest in a New York firm of consulting engineers. The resignation was announced by the General Services Administration—agency under which the commissioner works. GSA made public Strobel's letter of resignation and a letter of acceptance by Edmund F. Mansure, GSA administrator. The resignation became effective at the close of business yesterday.

Democrats Sweep

trict Atty. James F. Malone lost to Democrat Edward C. Boyle in his battle for reelection. Malone has been considered a possible candidate for senator or governor.

In New York, the Democrats racked up a net gain of one mayoralty. They wrested control in Troy and Schenectady and six other smaller cities. The Republicans, in turn, defeated Democratic mayors in six cities. A Democrat also went down before an Independent in New Rochelle. The Democratic victory edge in Troy and Schenectady was slim and contests appeared likely.

IN NEIGHBORING Connecticut, Democrats uprooted an eight-year-old Republican regime in Waterbury. They also elected a mayor in Norwalk, turning out an Independent. Bridgeport voters reelected Jasper McLevy, a 77-year-old Socialist, to his 12th straight term as mayor.

Democratic leaders in New York and Connecticut hailed their city hall gains as indicating a "trend" pointing toward victory in the state and national elections next year.

In Arkansas, Democrat Woodrow Wilson Mann, a 40-year-old insurance man new to politics, whipped Republican Mayor Pratt C. Remmel of Little Rock. Remmel was seeking his third term.

IN MASSACHUSETTS, Democrat C. Gerald Lucey was trying for his third term as mayor of the shoe city of Brockton, but he lost to Hjalmar R. Peterson, a Republican former city councilman.

In New Jersey, Republicans lost three senate seats to the Democrats but held control of the State Legislature. At Paterson, Edward J. O'Byrne returned the city to Democratic control, downing Lester F. Titus, the Republican incumbent.

THINGS WENT as expected in Virginia, a normally Democratic state. The Democrats remained firmly in the driver's seat in the general assembly, but they were unable to overcome State Sen. Ted Dalton, the GOP's most consistent vote getter in the old dominion and a gubernatorial threat to the Democrats in 1957.

In Mississippi, Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, a Democrat, was elected governor. He had no Republican opposition.

IN DETROIT, 29-year-old John D. Dingell outraced 11 other candidates to win the Democratic nomination for representative from Michigan's 15th Congressional District. The seat was held for 22 years by his father, who died last September. Dingell will face Thomas E. Brennan, a 26-year-old attorney, who won the Republican nomination in yesterday's special primary. The election to fill the vacant House seat will be held Dec. 13. The district usually goes Democratic.

In many places, the mayoralty battles were fought on a nonpartisan basis.

BOSTON VOTERS gave John B. Hynes a third term as mayor after a campaign in which he claimed credit for "restoring the dignity and prestige" of the Hub City. Hynes defeated John E. Powers, Democratic leader in the Massachusetts Senate. Hynes, too, is a Democrat.

In San Francisco, the mayor's seat was won by George Christopher, president of the city's Board of Supervisors. He trounced George Reilly, a member of the California Board of Equalization. In a nonpartisan election, Christopher, a registered Republican, had the backing of many leading Democrats. Reilly is a registered Democrat."

Earl J. Glade, mayor of Salt Lake City for the past 12 years, was upset by County Commissioner Adiel F. Stewart in a nonpartisan election. The principal issue was the long tenure of Glade, a Democrat. His opponent is a Republican.

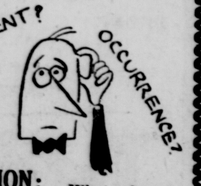
Now you Know!
The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON



QUESTION: What is the difference between "Accident" and "Occurrence" as the words are used in various insurance coverages?
ANSWER: The nation's courts themselves are not in complete agreement on what constitutes an accident. Insurance which covers "accidents" covers, roughly, something that is unforseen and unintentional. "Occurrence" coverage is best illustrated by the fact that your Comprehensive Personal Liability insurance would protect you if your dog bit someone although the bite certainly would not be accidental.
* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Democrats Sweep

Democratic leaders in New York and Connecticut hailed their city hall gains as indicating a "trend" pointing toward victory in the state and national elections next year.

In Arkansas, Democrat Woodrow Wilson Mann, a 40-year-old insurance man new to politics, whipped Republican Mayor Pratt C. Remmel of Little Rock. Remmel was seeking his third term.

IN MASSACHUSETTS, Democrat C. Gerald Lucey was trying for his third term as mayor of the shoe city of Brockton, but he lost to Hjalmar R. Peterson, a Republican former city councilman.

In New Jersey, Republicans lost three senate seats to the Democrats but held control of the State Legislature. At Paterson, Edward J. O'Byrne returned the city to Democratic control, downing Lester F. Titus, the Republican incumbent.

THINGS WENT as expected in Virginia, a normally Democratic state. The Democrats remained firmly in the driver's seat in the general assembly, but they were unable to overcome State Sen. Ted Dalton, the GOP's most consistent vote getter in the old dominion and a gubernatorial threat to the Democrats in 1957.

In Mississippi, Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, a Democrat, was elected governor. He had no Republican opposition.

IN DETROIT, 29-year-old John D. Dingell outraced 11 other candidates to win the Democratic nomination for representative from Michigan's 15th Congressional District. The seat was held for 22 years by his father, who died last September. Dingell will face Thomas E. Brennan, a 26-year-old attorney, who won the Republican nomination in yesterday's special primary. The election to fill the vacant House seat will be held Dec. 13. The district usually goes Democratic.

In many places, the mayoralty battles were fought on a nonpartisan basis.

BOSTON VOTERS gave John B. Hynes a third term as mayor after a campaign in which he claimed credit for "restoring the dignity and prestige" of the Hub City. Hynes defeated John E. Powers, Democratic leader in the Massachusetts Senate. Hynes, too, is a Democrat.

In San Francisco, the mayor's seat was won by George Christopher, president of the city's Board of Supervisors. He trounced George Reilly, a member of the California Board of Equalization. In a nonpartisan election, Christopher, a registered Republican, had the backing of many leading Democrats. Reilly is a registered Democrat."

Earl J. Glade, mayor of Salt Lake City for the past 12 years, was upset by County Commissioner Adiel F. Stewart in a nonpartisan election. The principal issue was the long tenure of Glade, a Democrat. His opponent is a Republican.
